Romulus School District OK's Millage Renewal

BY HENRY CANTIN

ROMULUS—Voters in Romulus Community School District approved a millage renewal and defeated a proposed bond issue in a special election held Monday, April 6.

Unofficial vote returns showed that a nine mills renewal proposal was approved by a vote of 1,274 to 1,000. Absentee ballots were eight for renewal as against four opposed.

The vote total on the proposed $11,000,000 bond issue was nearly two to one against. The totals were 1,410 NO votes to 772 YES votes.

Both property owners and non-property owners were permitted to cast ballots on the bond issue. There were a total of six absentee ballots for the bond issue to six against.

Robert L. McConeghy, the

Defeat Bond Issue

The school superintendent, announced that the Board of Canvassers was to meet Tuesday night to certify the election results.

The school board, he also announced, will analyze the election return, and meet with community leaders and groups before making any decision to re-submit the bond issue to the electorate.

McConeghy and school administrative staff were pleased with the millage renewal approval.

They thanked all who worked hard in placing the school district's problems before the voters and to the voters themselves for continuing present educational programs and services.

A defeat of the nine mills that expired with the 1969 school tax collection would have meant severe cutbacks in various schools programs and reduction in present teaching staffs.

The nine mills means $900,000 in tax revenue for the 1970-71 operating budget. It will not raise the present school tax levy.

Current school tax now stands at 31.6 mills per $1,000 of assessed property valuation, state equalized. This includes five mills for debt retirement.

The $11,000,000 bond issue cannot be re-submitted to the voters for at least six months, unless a change in the bond issue amount is made, McConeghy stated.

The huge bond issue, highest in school district history due to increased building costs, was to furnish funds, when needed, to erect, furnish and equip new elementary school buildings, a new junior high school building and additions to existing school buildings, re-equipping existing school buildings and acquiring additional school sites, etc.

The bond issue was proposed to keep pace with the growing student enrollment in the district. Present facilities, including MOTORIST ESCAPES DROWNING — Just four to five feet more and the above car would have been at the bottom of some 50 feet of water. Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol officers reported. The car was driven by William J. Brandon, 35, 31112 Summerset, Westland, eastbound on Huron River Drive and at High St. left the road and landed in Belleville Lake last Friday. Brandon told officers that two motorcyclists forced him off the road into a barricade that fences off the lake shore. He was not hurt and was able to walk away from his car.

Charter Candidates Listed

ROMULUS—Voters in Romulus Township will have to choose from among 42 candidates in filling administrative and legislative posts in the May 7 Charter Election.

Deadline at 4 p.m. last Friday saw three filed nominating petitions for mayor, three for clerk, three for treasurer and 33 for the Romulus Charter Commission seats called for problem City Charter transition Perry, township homes since Monday.

The proposed charter now awaits the governor's signature which is expected soon and details of the city incorporation document will then be published.

We here at the Romulus Roman will publish background material on the candidates in the coming weeks as soon as background material is available.

Elsewhere in this week's issue we have listed some of the candidates that are seeking office in the new strong mayor type government in a non-partisan election.

Romulus Roman Selected Again

ROMULUS—The Romulus Roman has again been selected as the official newspaper of Romulus Township.

Township electorate at their annual meeting held last Saturday at the L&L Hall, 1114 Sterling, approved a motion initiated by Mrs. Deane Lovenduski, deputy township clerk, that the Romulus Roman be approved as the official publication for Romulus. Approval was unanimous.

Some 55 township residents and voters attended the annual session, a time when the township's electorate voice their wishes, opinions and recommendations to the township board for the coming year.

Minutes of the last annual meeting were approved and motions granting the township board authority to procure options for the purchase of land, located around the site of Romulus' new Municipal Complex, Wayne and Goddard Rds., and to purchase land taken by the state for non payment of taxes were approved.

Any such option purchases by the township board will be subject to public hearing before final action is made.

Perry Announces Candidacy For Mayor

ROMULUS—Alfred J. Perry, Township Clerk, has changed his mind and entered the May 7 Charter Election. In doing so, he has cited his reasons as follows: Yes it is true, I have decided to seek the office of the first Mayor of Romulus.

Since my announcement in the Romulus Roman on March 15, that I would not seek any office in the upcoming Charter Election, I have received many calls from prominent people and from my very close friends and associates who were very discouraged because I was going to leave the political arena.

This prodding and encouragement has led me to change my mind.

Rumors had it that I had other plans and that I was looking elsewhere for employment. In part this was true. In performing the duties of Clerk and learning of the many problems concerning Romulus Township, I have been unable to produce all of my leadership qualities.

Citizens Group Endorses 'Yes' Vote On Proposed City Charter

ROMULUS -- The question of cityhood for Romulus definitely is going to have some champions -- and apparently strong ones at that!

The "IQ Group" -- Citizens for Integrity & Quality in Romulus Government -- officially took a stand this week endorsing a "Yes" vote on the township's special May 7 incorporation election.

And, with well known banker Hyle J. Carmichael as its mayoral candidate and chief standard bearer, has filed and endorsed a full slate of candidates for the 10 elective offices.

Carmichael heads a slate which includes as running mates:

TREASURER -- Albert L. Glinski, 45, 36915 Ferndale, a 21 year resident of Romulus and longtime businessman.

CLERK -- Leonard J. Folmar, 28, 35870 Cypress, a lifetime resident and Romulus High grad who earned degrees in management and economics at Ferris State College and has been employed the past few years as administrative aide in the township's Urban Renewal Department.

CITY COUNCIL --

William M. Oakley, 39,

9875 Tobine, another lifelong resident, member of Romulus Board of Education, member of Romulus Charter Commission and longtime businessman in the building trades.

Fred J. Block, 45, 15099 Middlebelt, owner of a used farm machinery company and also a longtime businessman.

Brooker R. Edwards, 43, 11411 Moore, 17 year resident of Romulus who graduated from high school and attended college in Mississippi before coming to Michigan where he is now employed at Ford Motor Company, Plymouth.

Thomas C. Hopson, 34, 37748 Castle Drive, also a lifelong resident and active Romulus civic worker who is District Manager for Equitable Life.

John C. (Jack) Rarick, 32, a resident only 4½ years, college degree holder, sales representative who is active with Romulus Recreation Commission, three time president of Romulus Township Home Owners Association. He resides at 6676 Gloria.

Robert J. Walicki, 35, 34892 Michele Drive, cost reduction specialist at Ford Motor Company, active in Jaycees, Romulus Home Owners Association and president of Romulus Goodfellows.

Thomas R. Williams, 42, 30664 Beverly, 31 year resident of Romulus, employed as property claims examiner for TransAmerica Insurance.

Carmichael, 54, of 37526 Walnut, was an executive with Romulus State Bank and Manufacturer's Bank in Romulus for most of the past 30 years, the last two as administrative executive in downtown Detroit.

Endorsement of the City Charter and incorporation came last night (Tuesday, April 7) at a rally at Romulus Progressive Hall which drew over 250 persons.

The turnout was the second largest gathering mustered by the IQ Group in as many weeks and was (Continued on Page 3)

Huron Approves Millage Renewal

NEW BOSTON — Voters in the Huron School District approved a millage renewal of three mills in a special election held Monday.

The millage renewal was approved by a vote of 422 YES votes to 365 NO votes. A total of 787 ballots were cast.

The vote total was slightly more than 25 percent of the eligible vote registrations of about 3,000.

Both the school board and members of the school system's administrative staff were pleased with the election results and added that the voter approval of the three mills renewal was essential in maintaining the school district's present program. It will now allow for the "most effective planning" for the future.

The millage renewal is a renewal of existing millage and will not increase the present school tax levy, the school board announced.

The three mills levy will realize $74,138 for school operations. Huron's state equalized valuation is presently $24,712,665. (Continued on Page 3)

Now Supervisor

Smith Files For Mayor

ROMULUS—Roderick E. Smith, Romulus Township supervisor since his election in May, 1969, and former township trustee and clerk Monday formally announced his candidacy for mayor at the May 7 charter election.

Smith active in the township's political arena for many years has issued the following statement in connection with his mayoralty candidacy.

Last week, through a brief statement in the Romulus Roman, I announced that I am a candidate for the office of Mayor of Romulus at the May 7 Charter Election.

I would like to take this opportunity to touch upon some of the important matters that the people of Romulus should consider in choosing their new Mayor and Council and other officials.

Active interest in my community has always been a personal prime concern. Almost immediately after moving to Romulus in 1945, I became active in P.T.A. Boy Scouts, and church activities, giving my time and assistance wherever possible for many years and at the same time, raising seven children, all of whom are Romulus High School graduates.

I am a Past President, Past Secretary and Past Treasurer of the Romulus Township Democratic Club, having joined that organization in 1957. I joined the old 16th District Democratic Organization in 1958 and presently serve as the Recording Secretary of the new 15th District Group. I have been a Precinct Delegate since 1959 and was elected an alternate Delegate to the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

I was first elected to public office in 1959 when I successfully ran for Township Clerk, and was re-elected Clerk in 1961, 1963 and 1965, serving nearly eight (8) years in that capacity before I resigned in 1966.

In 1968 I was elected Township Trustee and served in that office until I was elected Township Supervisor in May, 1969. During my active political days, I have served on many committees, among which were: Supervisor's Advisory Committee, Human Relations Committee, Industrial Advisory Committee, and as Romulus Urban Renewal Director.

In addition, I am a twelve (12) year member and Past President of Romulus Kiwanis Club, a member of the Romulus Progressive Club, a sustaining member of the Boy Scouts of America, and a Lector-Commentator and member of the Ushers Club of St. Aloysius Church in Romulus, and served a three year term as Committee Chairman in the United Community Services in Western Wayne County.

I feel that over the years I have served my community generously and well in whatever capacity I have been asked to serve; this is very important, as it indicates whether a candidate is really dedicated to serving his fellow-man, or merely that he has a selfish interest in the political field.

RODERICK E. SMITH

District Judge Describes Heroin Addiction

(Editor's Note: The following submitted by District Judge James B. Stone of the 34th District Court (Romulus) is the fifth of a series of articles on the problems of narcotics which has been in the forefront of current news reports.)

Heroin is one of the opiate derivatives. It is processed from morphine and is approximately three or four times stronger than morphine, thus making it several times more powerful than opium.

The tolerance for this drug builds up faster than any other opiate drug. Consequently the danger of addiction is that much greater. Heroin is so strong and its addiction properties are so bad that in 1924 the Federal government passed laws making it illegal to import or manufacture it.

No person in possession of heroin can explain that he has obtained it or is possessing it legally.

In its pure form heroin is a very fine white powder. The powder is so fine in texture that when it is rubbed into the skin of a person it disappears.

In Michigan it appears in several off-white colors in shades of tan, grey and yellow. It is the contact with air that causes the discoloration and also the milk sugar and quinine that the peddler uses to cut or adulterate the heroin to increase his profits and to decrease the strength of the drug.

Heroin is generally found in capsule form, either clear or pink in color but may be found in "decks" or bindles" (paper or aluminum foil folded in a fashion to retain the fine powder).

Some persons first try heroin by sniffing the powder up their nose or by rubbing it into the skin and getting a small effect of the drug in this way. After a short time this method will cease to satisfy and it will then be necessary to take the heroin by injection. To turn this powder into a shot that can be taken by an addict an "outfit" is necessary.

Outfit is a term describing an improvised hypodermic syringe. Very few addicts have a medical syringe. The contents of these kits or outfits vary but usually include a bent teaspoon or bottle cap, a hypodermic needle, eye-dropper, small piece of cotton, matches or a cigarette lighter, a tie, belt or rag.

Most addicts have more than one outfit and secrete them in every conceivable hiding place. A small amount of the heroin is placed in the vessel of the spoon or bottle cap and enough water is added to cover the powder.

The container is then heated by matches or maybe a candle, causing the solution to boil. A small piece of cotton is then placed in the liquid. At this point either the eyedropper or the hypodermic needle is placed in the cotton and the liquid is drawn into the eyedropper syringe.

In this fashion the cotton is used to remove the impurities from the poison about to be injected. Next, the tie rag or belt is used as a tourniquet. This will make the vein more prominent and the injection easier.

The needle is placed on top of the upraised vein and the puncture is made.

The addict is careful not to miss the vein and sometimes several punctures are necessary to pierce it. An addict will stick himself many times in an effort to strike the vein. When the point of the needle has entered the vein, blood will force its way up through the needle and be visible in the eyedropper. This is one indication that many users rely on to be sure that they are actually inside the vein and have not passed through the vein or missed their "hit."

The bulb of the eyedropper is then squeezed and the blood and heroin solution enters the vein.

The cottons are saved to be reused or boiled with other cottons for whatever material may have remained when the user is without his supply of heroin.

The bottom side of the spoon or bottle cap is blackened by the matches and the tie rag is spotted with blood stains. There is no attempt to sterilize, not even a pretense of it. Frequently, the users congregate and the same "outfit" is passed from one to the other without so much as wiping it off.

What has been described is the common practice of all narcotics users. There are of course, improvisations. With the continued use of the needle, abscesses and ulcers will be caused by the unsterile conditions. The vein will soon collapse and the addict looks elsewhere on his body for a suitable vein. Finally, he bears marks of numerous scars and a close examination will indicate fresh punctures over the location of his most recent injections.

Addiction to opiates consists of actual physical dependence plus a psychological dependence which is augmented by the development of tolerance to the drug which will gradually require larger and larger doses to avoid what is referred to as the withdrawal symptoms.

Withdrawal symptoms are the result of an addict being deprived of the drug to which he has become addicted. This is the distinction between a mere craving and a compulsion. A craving is what a person experiences when he gives up something that is enjoyable to him such as coffee or cigarettes.

The discomfort caused by abstaining from these is tolerable. As a result he may become nervous or irritable for a few days but this will cease.

The compulsion withdrawal symptoms are another matter. Deprivation of the opiates is characterized by a combination of one or more of all of the following: Yawning, profuse sweating, running nose, running eyes, dilation of the eye pupils, severe hot flashes alternating with chills, involuntary muscle twitching, muscle cramps in the legs, abdomen or other parts of the body, nausea, diarrhea, vomiting, inability to sleep, marked increase in blood pressure and respiration, increase in the basal metabolism and the blood sugar.

Since addiction decreases the appetite for food, when an addict is going through withdrawal symptoms or feels this coming on, they crave food and liquids that are high in sugar content, such as soda pop or candy, and will consume large amounts of them.

Because these withdrawal symptoms are so severe this fear of going through them will cause the addict to steal, cheat, lie or commit crimes to obtain the means to get more of his drugs.

Narcotics are pain relieving drugs and consequently the only medication to relieve this unbearable condition is an increased injection of narcotics.

The State and Federal hospitals use gradual reduction treatment by which the patient addict legally receives a reduced amount of drugs each day continuing in some cases for a month. During this time, it is imperative that the addict remain within the confines of the hospital. The patient may be allowed to do some light work on the hospital grounds. This treatment is not considered completed until the last two-year examination indicated there has been complete recovery.

Because of the crowded hospital conditions patients cannot be hospitalized for this length of time but by the time they are given a conditional discharge, they no longer experience physical suffering.

However, the psychological dependence usually dictates his immediate return to use of the drug and this time tolerance increases twice as rapidly as it did originally and within a relatively short time the withdrawal symptoms reappear.

Helping Hand Shop Needs Assistance

ROMULUS—Mrs. Florence Klein, Director of the Helping Hand Thrift Shop, located at the Special Services Building, 7335 Washington St., says they need help.

"We have tried to assist families wherever and whenever possible, but our project has grown to such an extent that we are in need of your assistance," Mrs. Klein said.

During the last four months of 1969 the Helping Hand Thrift Shop assisted in the following manner:

Used Articles Given Out, 2,909; Number Families Helped, 118; Number of People Helped, 649; and New Articles Given out, 278.

"This is only a small example of what is done because we are unable to account for all the phone calls and other contacts that have to be made to help people," Mrs. Klein added.

Anyone wishing to lend a hand on Tuesday mornings between 9 a.m. and noon, or on Thursday between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. are asked to contact Mrs. Klein at 722-4050.

Terrier dogs were bred chiefly for hunting rabbits and foxes.

'Cityhood Makes Sense!'

(Editor's Note: The following submitted by Felix F. Rogalle, chairman of Romulus Charter Commission is the first of a series of articles on the proposed City Charter up for voter decision in a special election scheduled May 7).

By FELIX F. ROGALLE
Chairman, Charter Commission

How much will it cost?

That may not be the singular question in everyone's mind about Romulus' proposed Charter for cityhood. But it is certainly the most popular.

And, perhaps, rightly so!

As one of the several people who poured countless hours and evenings over the past two years into serving as a Charter Commissioner, I think I can speak for all of us when I say there are times that we wish more concern were expressed over some other aspects of the constitution we have drawn for Romulus as a city.

Like its basic homerule powers, the governmental organization, the checks and balances.

But, facts and taxes being what they are, the uppermost question in almost every citizen's mind in trying to be objective about the question before us...is money!

Perry Enters Race

rules and guidelines, (namely the Charter), of which I was a member and the only Mayoral candidate who does know the full intent and reasoning behind the Charter as it has been drawn up, I should remain and work to see that this proposed Charter, if passed, is fulfilled.

I also realize that the position of Mayor is a huge undertaking, but, with a new Council consisting of seven Councilmen the job can be performed more proficiently.

Romulus does have many problems as it is in a transitional period. Many new homes are being built and builders are taking advantage of our weaknesses.

Taxes are of concern to all of us and with the additional 8.3 mills that will be asked for in the new Charter everyone should be concerned.

Recreation is of prime concern to all of us in the Community; we do have many sites, but cannot expand upon facilities with what is presently budgeted under Township status. Police and Fire Departments must be expanded upon.

This is no longer a back woods dumping ground community and selfish motivations and petty arguments are not the answers for a community that is growing in leaps and bounds.

In the seven years that I have lived in Romulus Township I have been the president of the local Kiwanis Club and am still active. I am president of the Romulus Democratic Club and an encourager of youth and senior citizen functions.

I have helped the Boy Scouts and aided the Kidney and United Foundation Drives. I have served on the

How much will it cost?

WELL, how much do you think it is worth?

How much would you say would be a reasonable, fair, justifiable amount for each property owner to pay for his municipal government?

Please think about that...select a figure...and write it down before reading onward.

Bear this in mind: We are not talking about school taxes.

We are not talking about county taxes. Nor hospital taxes.

Nor are we speaking of special assessments for water. Nor sewers.

We are speaking strictly of municipal government operating costs!

NOW, LET'S figure what we're talking about with the Romulus Charter.

The Charter sets a maximum limit of 10 mills for municipal operation.

A mill is $1 in tax for every $1000 of real estate of personal property assessment.

Real estate, under State law, is to be assessed at 50 percent - that is no more than one half - actual value.

Work it backward: What would you estimate your real estate value at?

Divide that in half to get your maximum assessment.

How many thousands of dollars is it?

Okay, now multiply that by 10 (the maximum number of mills in the charter).

What's your answer?

That's the most your yearly taxes could ever be if property stays at present value!

How does it compare with the figure you estimated earlier would be a reasonable, fair, justifiable amount to pay for municipal government?

NOW THAT the "bogy man" of maximum taxes has been dispelled, let's get reasonable.

The 10 mills put in the Romulus Charter as a maximum was a recommendation of outside authorities.

After analyzing it, they told the Charter Commission that amount would be actually sound to support Romulus as a model city when (and if) that times comes.

Realistically, Romulus very likely may never need the maximum levy of 10 mills.

Westland, a city of between 80,000 and 90,000 people which incorporated four years ago, is levying at 7.6 mills after four years of operation - and it has no industry at all to speak of.

Livonia, a city which has much more industry, but again perhaps not as much as Romulus on a per capita basis, is operating with a five mill limit.

Wayne, Inkster and Garden City have charters calling for 15 to 20 mills - partly because they do not have the industrial wealth that Romulus has...and partly because those figures were carried over from former village status which required big millages for the same lack of industrial wealth reasons.

We can't tie the hands of elected officials and administrators by promising in advance how much Romulus' millage would be as a city.

But, with industry paying three fourths (75 percent) of the costs - because it represents three fourths of the assessed valuation and should continue to even more - it is obvious that the City of Romulus will NOT be needing any 10 mills for (?) years.

WILL TAXES go up if Romulus accepts cityhood?

Not necessarily...but very likely!

Why? To answer that, we'd have to say that under Township limitations, which are woefully antiquated, there just are not enough resources to do the services people expect.

And there aren't as many outside incomes (State taxes, Gas & Weight taxes, etc.) coming in.

For example: Romulus Township is actually operating now on 2.8 mills - or $2.80 per $1000 of assessed valuation.

That means that a citizen with real estate property worth $20,000 - which could be assessed maximum at $10,000 - is paying only 10 times 2.8...or $28 a year in municipal taxes.

Similarly, real estate valued at $10,000 (assessed at maximum of $5,000) is paying only $14 a year. You'd expect a good license plate for that...but not a good government!

Romulus' 2.8 mill tax is brought about in two parts: For General Operation - 1.3 mills.

For Police Department - 1.5 mills (which has 24 months to go).

Romulus residents also have other taxes for special services - just as other residents of other cities do. For instance, the PCHA hospital tax is .4 of a mill. The special levy for water is 3 mills (for another 7 years). And the levy for sewers is 4 mills.

But, those are not municipal operating taxes.

THE SUBJECT of taxes is obviously a serious one. Charter Commissioners (also taxpayers) treated it as such. In future articles, we'd like to treat some of the aspects of what we'll be buying for that amount. (And, also, possibly why some small minorities are trying to scare voters off with distorted information!)

Meantime, please ask yourself what you think a good local government should cost.

We're very confident we're in the ballpark!

Citizens Group

Ronald Hopson, chairman of the IQ Group and brother of the City Council candidate, said the turnouts "mean that the idea of getting a better government for Romulus and better candidates for office is popular - and apparently growing more so every week!"

"After last night's (Tuesday) turnout, I don't think there can be much doubt but that a lot of people who haven't been active before just didn't have a really compatible opportunity. The city election and the slate we're supporting does appeal and the people are responding," he said.

Hopson said that the enthusiasm shown has been sufficient for the IQ Group to invest in a campaign headquarters and that offices of the Ezy Products building.

on Wayne road just south of Goddard, have been obtained and should be opened within a few days.

Concerning published allegations of a week ago by Supervisor Rod Smith that the IQ Group is injecting "partisan politics" into the non-partisan City election because some of its members are Republicans, Hopson said:

"The supervisor is doing an injustice to a lot of interested citizens with talk like that. Naturally he'd like to create the impression of a partisan race because that's what put him in office. But the Charter Commissioners said non-partisan...and that's what IQ is.

"We're running a slate based on qualified candidates. If some of us have engaged in partisan municipal affairs before, that's certainly not a criteria for disenfranchisement or even criticism. Like he said, we welcome interested citizenry...regardless of what they were in the past."

Files For Mayor

It's pretty difficult to understand why an individual is so interested in public office today, when less than a year ago, he refused to accept two separate appointments where he could have served his Community in the area of Public Administration.

I might add that I have no special personal interests in any private business in Romulus; I do not belong to any corporation, nor am I a partner with anyone in business. I have never owned any property other than my residence house and lot.

I am not a land speculator, nor do I have any affiliation or association with any individual or organization dealing in land speculation. Nor have I ever used my office or knowledge gained while in office to a financial advantage. I am not running for office on a SLATE, simply because I am convinced that the Charter provides the checks and balances necessary to soundness and honesty in government, and it separates completely the legislative from administrative.

And this is the way it should be, that the Mayor be separate from the Council in all aspects, including the campaign for office.

I, too, think there are some issues that should be discussed by the candidates. But just to mention the issues with no solution or program is not being fair to the Public.

The tax issue is one with which everybody is familiar, since it reaches into our pocket books. I have already stated that the answer to high property taxes being lowered lies in two directions: first, the elimination of indiscriminate taxing procedures by the County Tax Bureau; and secondly, a completely new fair appraisal to eliminate the high state equalization factor and to evaluate all the properties in Romulus in a sound and equitable manner.

The new appraisal is now underway and will be completed by tax year 1971.

The recently complete Board of Review findings bear witness to our claims of discrimination in assessments in certain instances and the solution by approval of credits in cases of unfair assessments. But for someone to stand on a soap box and claim that the township is getting excessive amounts of tax dollars (Romulus still receives only 1.3 mills or $1.30 for each $1,000 of equalized valuation for maintenance and administration) that same someone is only making noise for the want of something better to take issue with.

The great number of people who have filed as candidates indicates to me that a vital interest in this election is existent throughout the township, and even though there is less than a month to evaluate the candidates, the people of our Community will use good sense in making their selections.

I welcome and seek support from all groups and individuals in Romulus in this election; I make no other Campaign promises than an efficient, honest and progressive administration that only a dedicated, experienced official can accomplish.

We're just bursting with...

Romulus' Voting Lists Rise

ROMULUS—The number of voters eligible to vote in the special charter election scheduled for May 7 totaled 7,422, Mrs. Deana Lovenduski, deputy clerk, announced Monday.

Deadline for registering to vote in this election was Saturday, March 28 at 4 p.m. The registration rolls showed an increase of 178 persons over last year.

A precinct voter breakdown is as follows:

Precinct One, 864. Precinct Two, 471. Precinct Three, 549. Precinct Four, 805. Precinct Five, 749. Precinct Six, 720. Precinct Seven, 603. Precinct Eight, 624. Precinct Nine, 893. Precinct Ten, 852 and Precinct Eleven, 292.

OAKLEY—William M., 39, lifetime resident of Romulus. Longtime builder and businessman in Romulus. Currently member of Romulus Board of Education and served on City Charter Commission. Supports Charter and incorporation. Endorsed by IQ Group. Feels "getting proper people and a charter by which Romulus can properly grow, properly develop and properly operate" is key consideration of election for voters. Member of Romulus Rotary. Resides with wife, Mary, and four children at 9875 Tobine in Romulus' north central area.

Brooker R. Edwards
Council

EDWARDS—Brooker R., 43, resident of Romulus 17 years. Graduated from high school and attended college in Mississippi before coming to Michigan where he is now employed with Ford Motor Company. Was candidate for constable in 1959 and for township trustee in 1961. Served on Recreation Commission, officer with Romulus Civic League, Army veteran, 32nd Degree Mason and chairman of Neighborhood Advisory Council. Supports Charter and incorporation and feels "getting good charter and qualified people willing to work together in the public offices" is prime issue before voters. Endorsed by IQ Group. Resides with wife, Willie, at 11411 Moore, in central Romulus. Two grown sons.

It is controlled, can roll over a community and completely destroy it, making it an unfit place for people to live, raise their children.

A community must plan, it must look and study all the possibilities; it must train its children and give them the very best; because we know that the world they will live in will be a tougher place than the one we live in. We must study every situation, every proposal, decide what is the best for, not only the community now, but in the future. Then we must have the courage of our convictions, no matter how tough it may be, to see that these decisions are put into action.

During the decade of the 70's, the people of Romulus are going to be called upon to work harder than we ever thought it would be necessary, make more decisions affecting the community than they ever thought possible, and see our community grow and expand at a rate that will make our heads swim. Even now it has started.

Within the next few months this community will be asked to vote on a number of different proposals. Each by itself will have a great impact upon the community and when put together could shape our future for many years to come. It is, therefore, imperative that each of us study these proposals for ourselves. Make our own decisions. Then have the courage to vote our convictions, many times setting aside personal likes and dislikes, considering the needs of the community first.

Good old Romulus is gone but there's a "Good New Romulus" to be built. Let's start now.

The recently completed Keystone Dam on the Arkansas River, is in OKLAHOMA.

HOPSON—Thomas C., 34, resident of Romulus 32 years. Graduated from Romulus High and is now District Manager for Equitable Life. Active in scouting, little league football and freshman football coach. Strongly interested in education and community government. Supports Charter and incorporation. Feels "getting something better" is key objective in election. Resides with wife, Diane, and four children at 37748 Castle Drive in new subdivision in central Romulus Endorsed by IQ Group.

Thomas R. Williams

WILLIAMS—Thomas R., 42, resident of Romulus 31 years, employed as property claims examiner for TransAmerica Insurance Co. Active and interested in local governmental affairs. Attended St. Mary's High School, Wayne. Supports City Charter and incorporation and feels "obtaining men of integrity and quality under any form of government" is key issue of election. Endorsed by IQ Group. Resides with wife and children at 30664 Beverly in Romulus' northeast sector.

RARICK—John C. (Jack), 32, employed as sales representative with area firm. Holds degree in business administration from Western Reserve University, Ohio. Very active in community affairs. Member Parks & Recreation Commission; active with Cub Scout Pack 830; three time president of Romulus Township Home Owners Association, former member of Romulus React Committee; treasurer of Romulus Republican Club. Wife active with Hayti PTA. Residents of Romulus 4 1/2 years. Supports City Charter and incorporation. Feels "getting charter to properly direct community government and quality people to implement it" is major issue of campaign. Endorsed by IQ Group. Resides with wife, Carole and three children at 6676 Gloria, in new subdivision near Ecorse and Merriman roads.

Van Buren Reports On Building

BELLEVILLE—Van Buren Township Building Department issued 16 residential building permits during March having an estimated construction cost of $48,297. Darryl Robson, building inspector, announced.

In addition, the department issued 105 permits for other than building. These permits were issued by the electrical, heating and plumbing divisions.

Total fees collected amounted to $2,155.

During March commercial construction totaling $25,000 was also approved.

BLOCK—Fred J., 45, owner of farm machinery business, in Romulus for 20 years. Deep roots and family and business investments in the community. Particularly active in church work. Endorses City Charter and feels "getting some businessmen to run business of government" is a major issue in election. Endorsed by IQ Group. Lives with wife, Lorraine, and five children at 15099 Middlebelt in Romulus' Southwest sector.

Hayti PTA Re-Elects President

ROMULUS—Mrs. Judy Gruber was returned to office as President of the Romulus Area PTA Council when it met at Hayti Elementary School on March 24 for the annual election of officers.

Elected to serve with Mrs. Gruber were: Vice President, Mrs. Betty Hill; Secretary, Mrs. Joy Lamberson; Treasurer, Mrs. Gloria Chandler.

Mrs. Gruber will be beginning her third year as Council President, having served a one year term in 1967.

She will be the first in the 20 year history of Romulus PTA Council to have led the group through three terms.

WALICKI—Robert J., 35, cost reduction specialist with Ford Motor Company. Resident of Romulus about four years. Very active in community affairs. Ran for township office in 1968 and active with Romulus Jaycees. Treasurer of Romulus Home Owners Association. President of Romulus Goodfellows. Veteran of U.S. Air Force. Supports Charter and incorporation. Considers "good strong charter and good, representative group of qualified people in office" as main issue of election. Endorsed by IQ Group. Resides with wife, Jeanette, and one son at 34892 Michele Drive in new subdivision on Wayne Road north of expressway.

Charles Grissom Gets Home Leave

BELLEVILLE — Lance Corporal Charles D. Grissom, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Grissom, 20218 Martinsville Rd., has arrived home this week for a 35-day home leave.

Corporal Grissom entered military service 21 months ago. He served the last 15 months in Vietnam.

He is a graduate of Wayne Memorial High School, Wayne, where his parents formerly lived.

Branding Irons 4-H Club

NEW BOSTON—The Branding Irons 4-H Club of New Boston is featuring John Leech, the Extension Agricultural Agent of Wayne County as the speaker for their April meeting.

The meeting will be held at the donut shop at the Wayne County Fairgrounds on Tuesday, April 14, at 7:30 p.m.

Leech's program will be a slide presentation on proper feeding of livestock, including poultry, horses, beef, goats, sheep and pigs.

The meeting is open to the public and should be of interest to many of the local residents who raise animals.

The leader of the Branding Irons 4-H Club is Mrs. Azel Hensley.

Good Old Romulus Will It Ever Be The Same?

BY GEORGE WILHELM UR DIRECTOR

The other day I was talking to a friend of mine, who is an old time resident of Romulus, and he was telling of the time when Romulus was a farm community.

When you could still walk down a road without being run off it by a car. When the only thing which disturbed the serenity was an occasional train or a slow prop driven airplane once in a while.

Practically everybody knew each other, government was on a personal basis and when you could do your own thing without being bothered. He ended with a statement "Good Old Romulus" will it ever be the same.

We sat and talked about it for a while we looked at the airport and its expansion, looked at what was happening in Wayne County as a whole and decided that "No Romulus will never be the same as it was".

In fact, change is coming so fast, that we decided that Romulus next week — will not be the same as it is this week. Whether we like it or not Urban Sprawl has reached Romulus.

The next ten years will see changes in our community which even the professional planners cannot envision today. According to regional studies by the year 1980 Romulus Township will be completely built up and by the year 2000, which is only 30 years away, there will be a solid city all the way from Detroit to Toledo to Cleveland, the type of a thing that planners are nowadays calling Megalopolis.

Back in the good old days if a decision had to be made you could talk about it for a couple of weeks, argue about it for a couple more weeks, make a decision to do some particular thing and then change your mind six months later without it really having too much effect upon the community.

Today questions are being asked which must be answered now and decisions are being made which affect the whole community and these decisions become actions immediately, leaving no time for friendly bartering or some "good old fashioned" horse trading.

It is a very sobering thing to realize that the decisions we make today, we will have to live with for the rest of our lives and our children after us. This puts a great responsibility on every citizen. I think we all realize that this great "steam roller" called "Urban Sprawl", unless

MISS SYROKA

June 19 Is Their Altar Date

Stasia Syroka, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Syroka of 38008 Walnut Drive, Romulus, became engaged recently to William Nicol of 37098 Huron River Drive, New Boston. He is the son of Charles Nicol of 39047 Wade Road, Romulus.

The bride-elect will graduate from Romulus High School in June.

Her fiancé, a 1968 alumnus of Romulus High School, is employed by Rite-way Excavating, Inc., Romulus.

Plans are being made for a June 19 wedding.

Chubb-Eichold Ceremony Held At Methodist Church

A honeymoon trip to Washington, D.C. for one week followed the April 4 nuptials which united Becky Eichold of Belleville and William Chubb of Taylor. The newlyweds, who were feted at an evening reception at the Romulus Progressive Club prior to their departure, are now making their home in Detroit at 9182 Cadieux.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Mumford of 42020 Fret Road, Belleville, Becky was given in marriage by her brother, Larry Eichold.

The Rev. Charles Dibley presided at the seven o'clock ceremony at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville with some 150 friends and relatives in attendance.

For the happy occasion the church was appointed with tall candelabrum and vases of pink and green carnations and two vases containing all-white arrangements.

Organist Mrs. Glenn Miller accompanied Mrs. Jim Pollard who sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Wedding Prayer."

WALKING TO her waiting bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Chubb of 23026 Bernard, Taylor, Becky appeared in a Chantilly lace creation designed with a scalloped neckline and long lace sleeves. Her bouffant skirt fell in wide lace tiers to form a chapel train at the back.

Her illusion veil in mid-back length was caught to a cluster of lace hearts shaped in butterfly form with seed pearls for accent. Her colonial bouquet contained white roses encircled by white daisies.

As her sister's honor attendant, Mrs. Gary Halverson of Belleville donned a pink frock fashioned in the empire mode. The short-sleeved bodice was covered with white lace as was the train which cascaded from the shoulders. She, too, held a colonial arrangement but of pink carnations surrounded by white carnations.

Bridesmaids in mint green ensembles like that worn by Mrs. Halverson were Jeanette La Framboise of Ypsilanti and Kathy Patke of Belleville.

The bridegroom asked his oldest brother, Richard

Chubb of Southgate, to serve as best man. Two other brothers, Ronald Chubb of Taylor, and Norman Chubb of Detroit, were ushers.

FOR HER daughter's wedding, Mrs. Mumford wore a pink, double-knit, A-line dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was of pink and white carnations.

The bridegroom's mother chose a turquoise and white, double-knit brocade jacket-dress with matching accessories. A corsage of white carnations was pinned at the shoulder.

A 1969 graduate of Belleville High School, Becky was employed at Manning's Department Store, Belleville, prior to her marriage.

Her husband graduated from Taylor High School in 1968 and is an employee of the Pepsi Cola Company, Dearborn. A member of the U.S. Naval Reserve, he will be assigned to active duty in June.

MRS. WILLIAM CHUBB

Ceremony In Canada Unites Charette-Sims

St. Augustine's Church in Ottawa, Canada was the setting March 20 for the double ring nuptials which united Diane Sims and Leonard Charette in holy matrimony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Lorne Sims of Ottawa and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Charette of 18824 Savage Road, Belleville.

The nuptial mass at seven in the evening was read by Father Allan before an altar appointed with baskets of white chrysanthemums and gladioli.

Soloist Beth Brophy was accompanied at the organ by John McGovern.

ESCORTED TO the sanctuary by her father, Diane wore a cathedral-length mantilla with a wide border of lace. Her traditional white gown was styled in toe-touching length with three-quarter sleeves and a rolled collar on the sculptured bodice.

Her bouquet was comprised of white carnations and red rosebuds.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Jane Angus of Ottawa with Mrs. Judy Morin as the only bridesmaid. Their empire-style frocks were in candy stripes and their bouquets were fashioned of pink carnations.

A fraternity brother of the bridegroom, Bob Bigelow of Tecumseh, was asked to be best man. Ushers were Doug Angus and a cousin of the bride, Mike Brophy, both of Ottawa.

The Green Valley Restaurant in Ottawa was reserved for the reception which followed. The bride's mother received in a green knit ensemble and corsage of yellow baby roses. Mrs. Charette, the bridegroom's mother, donned a pink crepe dress to which she added her corsage of white baby roses.

Prior to making their new home at 47001 Waters Edge Lane, Belleville, the young couple honeymooned in southern Ontario, northern New York, Pennsylvania, and Ohio.

The new Mrs. Charette holds a B.A. degree from Carleton University in Ottawa and is employed at the Windsor High School of Commerce.

Leonard attended Cleary College where he affiliated with Tau Kappa Delta fraternity. He is presently employed at the Ypsilanti State Hospital.

Holiday In Spain

ARRIVING BACK on home soil in the wee hours of Monday morning were the traveling Archers—Bob, Betty, Jeff and Lisa—who are slowly getting back to the normal routine of things on Harmony Lane after eight days in the Mediterranean.

With Majorca as their destination, the foursome, along with Betty's brother-in-law and sister, the William Grahams of Grosse Ile, took part in an Easter tour sponsored by an alumni group from Eastern Michigan University.

Making their headquarters at the Melia Majorca in Palma (the island's capitol) they branched out a bit, hiring a car for a couple days and seeing much of the countryside not covered by conducted tours. Jeff also struck out on his own and, with newlyfound friends, did the island via motor scooter.

The Caves of Drach (comparable to our own Carlsbad Caverns) were among the highlights of their stay—the caves boasting an underground lake where a stringed ensemble traveled on lighted boats as they played concert music.

The Archers also had the fascinating experience of being invited into the home of Michael Huggins, a renowned British artist now living on Majorca, and seeing his outstanding work.

Some of the world's finest pearls, processed on the island, were viewed during a visit to a pearl factory with a few items brought home for friends. One of the least enjoyable aspects of the trip, Betty told us, was experiencing their first bull fight—a most goary, uncompetitive sport—.

But the very nicest memory of the trip, she continued, will be the new friendships they all made—Lisa meeting other teenagers and visiting her first discotheque and she and Bob having couples from London and Birmingham, England with whom to correspond.

Jeff was packed off to his sophomore classes at Central Michigan early Monday and Lisa is now back to her bookwork at Belleville High.

Also Away ...

... were the Donovan Partridges of W. Huron River Drive who drove to Tennessee to spend Easter with their son, Greg, an Airman Apprentice with the U.S. Navy at Millington. Making the trip with friends from Dearborn, Victor and Phyllis Hopeman, they departed early Good Friday and returned Easter night ... THE LEO TURNEY family enjoyed the Florida sunshine for the holiday week as they relaxed and sunned at Hollywood. Their son, Dean, and his friend, Bill Doonan, drove down ahead of them in order to visit Bill's grandparents, the Verne Doonans at Palm Beach. ... WE HEAR from Virginia (Turney) that the Ernie Patke family was also soaking up vitamin C at Fort Lauderdale over Easter ... AND THAT Bob and Lucille Perry and daughter, Patti, made the trip to Brandenton via their private plane which Bob piloted during the six and a half hour flight. After spending several days with Bob's parents, the Harold Perrys, they continued over to Boca Raton to call on former business associates and close friends, the John Frasers ... OTHERS WE were unable to contact took off for the Smokey Mountains, Washington, D. C., and parts of the South for the spring-time break ... HOPEWELL, NEW JERSEY was on the calendar for the Eugene Rhodes of Harmony Lane as they spent the Easter week with their daughter and son-in-law, Chris and Tom Craig ... A RELEASE RECEIVED from Sarasota, Florida, tells us the Allen H. Bassetts and their four children, Patti, Kathy, Paul, and Richard, of Harmony Lane, were among other Bellevillites to visit the Sunshine State during Easter. They included on their tour a stop at the state-owned Ringling Museum on Florida's lower west coast.

More On Easter

OUT-OF-STATE guests at the Arthur Shephard home on Elwell Road were her cousins from Iowa—the Dale Reids from Oelwein and the Albert Gadaes of Sumner. Here for their first visit in eight years, the two couples spent the week-end and enjoyed the 'auld lang syne' bit with the Richard Jahncakes who came from Mount Morris; the Earl Wallises from Ypsilanti; and the Ed Del Mottes of Roseville; as well as members of the Shephard clan, Roger and Diane Ferguson and their trio.

Before returning, the visitors paid a call on Edward Jahncake at the Van Buren Convalescent Center.

Newly Wed Rupnows Honeymoon In Smokies

Arrangements of white chrysanthemums and gladioli and tall lighted tapers graced the altar of the First United Methodist Church of Belleville as Peggy Marie Murphy and George W. Rupnow exchanged nuptial vows and wedding bands.

The Rev. Charles Dibley presided at the seven o'clock service which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Murphy of 46801 McBride Road, Belleville, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Rupnow of 11411 Forrer, Detroit.

Thomas A. DeWitt at the organ accompanied Kenneth Winkelman of Dearborn, who was soloist for the occasion.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN PARTIN

Baptist Church Is Setting For March Vows

Double ring vows were solemnized March 7 at the Grace Baptist Church, Belleville, uniting in marriage Carol Robinson and John Partin.

Arrangements of white chrysanthemums, carnations and snapdragons adorned the altar as the Rev. Kinniman Crawford read the nuptial ceremony at five in the afternoon.

Carol is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Robinson of 319 W. Columbia Avenue, Belleville. John, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Partin of 45857 Ecorse Road, Belleville makes his home at 1509 N. Naomi, Burbank, California, the newlyweds' new address.

A TRIO OF bridesmaids in peacock blue preceded the bride and her father to the altar. Carrying a cascade of white gladioli, Carol was gown in white Chantilly lace in formal length. The fitted bodice was designed with a square neckline and wristpoint sleeves sprinkled with seed pearls.

Her illusion veil drifted to mid-back length from an openwork headpiece of seed pearls.

Wanda Worley of Belleville was honor attendant for her best friend with Lorrie O'Shay, another close friend, and Dreama Robinson, her cousin, as bridesmaids.

Their formal gowns featured companion lace coats in formal length with their blue veils secured by white velvet bows. Bouquets of white carnations tipped in peacock blue completed their ensembles.

Youngsters in the bridal coterie included the two flowergirls, Melinda Blankenship, seven, and Linda Partin, eight; and ringbearers, Terry Miller, seven, and Mark Taylor, eight.

A NEPHEW OF the bridegroom, Dale Morgan of Detroit, assumed the role of best man. Ushers were Preston Adams, a cousin from Plymouth, and Tom Robinson of Belleville, the bride's brother.

The reception at the UAW Hall on Ecorse Road included some 100 friends and relatives from Columbus and Cincinnati, Ohio; Burbank, California; Southfield, Detroit, Rochester, Sterling Heights, and Belleville.

White carnations tipped in blue were worn by the bride's mother who donned a blue ensemble for the occasion. Also in blue, Mrs. Partin added a similar corsage to her dress.

Following a two-day honeymoon in Ann Arbor, the newlyweds traveled to their new home in Burbank, California where the bridegroom is employed at Lockheed. Both young people attended Belleville High School.

SOME 250 GUESTS saw Peggy walk to the altar with her father. For her wedding day she donned a toe-touching gown of Venice lace fashioned with a bouffant skirt which drifted in ruffles to form a chapel train. The little fitted bodice was accented with sequins and her full bishop sleeves were cuffed to the elbow.

A delicate froth of net petals, tipped with shimmering iridescents and pearls, secured her bouffant veil of silk illusion which fell in three tiers to waist length.

Completing her bridal finery was a cascade bouquet of June bells and stephanotis interspersed with pitts leaves.

A life-long friend of the bride, Rachel Rudd of Inkster, served as maid of honor. Her tear-shaped bouquet was comprised of white carnations, baby's breath and yellow bows.

Bridesmaids, Kathy Gattis, Sherril Darichuk and Sharon Smolen, all classmates of the bride; and Sally Plachetzki of Sterling Heights, a cousin of the bridegroom, carried colonial bouquets similar to Miss Rudd's.

Fashioned of emerald green velvet, their identical ensembles featured long-sleeved empire frocks frosted with white lace, and emerald green bows holding their matching veils.

THREE-YEAR OLD Theresa Murphy, daughter of the Jimmy Murphys, wore a miniature version of the senior attendants' frocks as she carried out the role of flowergirl. She carried a lace umbrella basket filled with white carnations and baby's breath.

Troye Ludwig, three, son of the Don Ludwigs, performed as ringbearer.

Best man was Paul Szymanski of Detroit. The corps of ushers included Mark Starkel of Dearborn Heights; Jerry Ryan and Dan Koitek of Detroit; and Chuck Plachetzki of Sterling Heights, cousin of the bridegroom.

The V.F.W. Hall, Romulus, was the setting for the reception which followed. Friends and relatives were greeted by Mrs. Murphy in a formal gown of lime green chiffon with white accessories and a wrist corsage of white rose buds.

Mrs. Rupnow wore for her son's wedding a floor-length gown of blue chiffon with accessories in silver. She, too, wore a wrist corsage of white rose buds.

Prior to making their home in Romulus, the newlyweds honeymooned in the Smokey Mountains.

Peggy graduated from Belleville High School in 1969 and attended the Atlantic School at Kansas City. Before her marriage she was employed at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.

After graduating from Cody High School in 1968, George attended Henry Ford College and is now employed at Henkel and McCoy.

Wild Birds, Pollution On Garden Club Agenda

The Van Buren Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Edward Kapelanski of Haggerty Road March 24. The morning meeting was presided over by Mrs. Virgil Lockrow, president, who recently returned from the hospital following surgery.

Reports were given on wild birds of our area and Florida. Mrs. William Graham told of the cedar waxwing, a friendly bird that lives chiefly on fruit. Mrs. Kapelanski told of mourning doves and their mournful coo from which their name is derived. An interesting fact is that the young feed on pigeon's milk.

Mrs. Joseph E. Horste, who just returned from Florida, told of the ibis which she watched from her living room window each day.

MRS. KAPELANSKI presented a paper on pollution which members took turns reading. It explained that dirty air screens out sunlight and lowers earth's temperature. Particles may be invisible to the naked eye but they form clouds and produce rain. Millions of tons of pollution are spewed out into the atmosphere every day.

MISS FLANNERY

Mrs. Philip (Marie) DeLangis of PalosVerdes, California, flew here to attend the Friday evening wedding of her sister, Miss Susan Glaab, Jr., to Mr. Charles Hengstebeck, Jr., and visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Glaab, Sr., on Hannan Rd. She flew back Sunday night. Susan was married at Gesu Church in Detroit. The day also marked Mrs. DeLangis' birthday.

Mrs. Irvin Icenogle will entertain members of the Mortonview Sewing Club this afternoon (Wednesday) at her home on Huron River Drive South. The ladies will enjoy noon lunch together after which they will sew on cancer pads. Guests expected are Mrs. Edith Wilson of Wyandotte and Mrs. Dora Reich of Wick Road, Romulus.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lehman of Huron River Drive South flew to Arkansas recently to spend a week at Mountain Home with his sister and brother-in-law and with friends. They enjoyed fishing also.

The Grant VanAernums of Romulus Avenue entertained at Easter dinner her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Broesamle of Hillsdale, and on the same occasion celebrated Mr. VanAernum's birthday. Children and grandchildren of the VanAernums also came throughout the day to join in the double celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Morris and son, James, of Huron River Drive South, flew to Florida during the recent Spring vacation to enjoy several days of sightseeing.

Highlights were visits to the Kennedy Space Center, Cypress Gardens, Busch Gardens and a Tiger ball game. The Morris' third son, Larry, also motored to Florida with a college friend while they were on Spring vacation from Michigan State University, East Lansing.

The next Men's Breakfast for men of the Romulus and New Boston United Methodist Churches will be held next Sunday, April 12, at the Romulus church on Olive Street, beginning at 8 a.m.

The Calvary Baptist Church, Ozga Rd., has named April 12 as "Record Breaking Sunday." This means they are, on that date, attempting to break last year's attendance record.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Tally of Menton Street had as Easter dinner guests their children and families: Mr. and Mrs. John Kostelic and Debbie of Belleville, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Gene Cotham and family of Romulus, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Tally and family of Romulus, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Hawkes and family of Romulus. The occasion also marked Mr. Tally's birthday.

The next meeting of the Romulus W.S.C.S. will be held next Monday evening, April 13, at the United Methodist Church on Olive Street. The time is 7:30 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Glaab of Detroit were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Glaab, Sr., on Hannan Rd. The two men are brothers.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Morris and family of Huron River Drive South motored to Florida for Spring vacation and visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Morris, and his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Morris, Jr. and baby son, all of Bradenton.

On Monday, April 6, students of the Romulus Community Schools returned to classes after a 10 day Spring vacation. The same day (Monday) Romulus voters were asked to vote on two issues for the Romulus Community Schools.

Miss Loretta Snyder, daughter of the C.M. Snyders of Conover Place, won a trophy this weekend for placing second in the State Bowling Tournament held at Schaefer Lanes, Dearborn. This was in Class A, girls. Loretta carries a 145 average.

All Around The Town

EASTER DINNER at the Albert Straub home on Elwell Road included their son Keith, a senior at Michigan State, who was just in from an MSU-sponsored tour to Acapulco. Also seated at the table were George and Sandi Brown and their children; daughters, Kathy and Dawn Bruder; and Jim Darnell and Tom Meyer.

TOPPING OFF the holiday week for the Gerry Miller family was the arrival Saturday of Helen's brother and wife, Bill and Millie Worell, and their seven-year old, Billie. The threesome, on their first visit here in eight years, were up on business from Middletown, Ohio, and managed to squeeze in an overnight on Stanley Drive.

ALSO ENTERTAINING at their traditional get-together were the Henry Sietz of Willis Road. Guests for dinner were his mother, Mrs. William Sietz; their daughter and family, Steve and Cynthia Pavelka and children; and from Ypsilanti, the Wayne Sietz family. AND OUT at the Judd Road home of the Fay Fergusons their family dinner included the Bob Ferguson and Roger Ferguson families and Terry Ferguson whose mother was missing because of confinement at Belvill Community Hospital. She and her dad, Richard Ferguson, were both able to pay a visit there in the evening.

New Granddaughter

LILLIAN PARTRIDGE, who refers to herself as S.O.G.W.P.I.P. (silly ole grandma with pictures in purse) should have some new snaps to show off these days what with the arrival of a new granddaughter on March 28. Little Johanna Renee Bernhardt made her debut at St. Joseph's Hospital, Ann Arbor, and has already been labeled 'Joey' by her big brother, Jess, who's all of four years old.

The proud parents are Dave and Cheryl Bernhardt of 543 Hunt Place, Ypsilanti, and grandparents are the Donovan Partridges and the Roger Bernhards; and great-grandmother is Mrs. Lillie Bernhardt, all of Belleville.

Mystery Trip

BELLEVILLE KIWANIANS and their wives took time out after several weeks of typing license plates forms, fashioning bows for Easter plants, wrapping potted lilies and tulips, and handling the three-day pre-holiday flower sale, to relax and 'play' a bit.

Meeting at Haggerty School last Tuesday, they traveled via chartered bus to an unknown destination—the 'mystery trip' being the brain-child of past president Kenn Daniels.

(Hoozit rites the most intrsting club bultn in twn?)

First stop for the group was Russell's Steak House in downtown Detroit where everyone feasted on giant-sized po'k chops and too many accompaniments. Then it was back on board for a short jaunt to the Red Garter for the remainder of the evening. The famous Red Garter Band -- complete with banjos, horns and even a callopie -- kept the place jumping with nary an intermission.

And -- just for the record -- let it be known that when they struck up "America the Beautiful", the entire house jumped to its feet for rafter-shaking vocalizing -- 'the house' being comprised mainly of young people in their early twenties.

It was enough to make the goose flesh pop and renew your faith in America's youth -- beautifully behaved at the Red Garter.

WOMEN Of The MOOSE

Our Senior Regent, June Sanders, is hospitalized at this writing and she would appreciate hearing from you. Send cards and letters to: Mercywood Hospital, Jackson Road, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

The executive committee prepared and served the Legion Deputy Herder's banquet on Saturday, March 28. The tables were decorated in an Easter theme and the members were lavish in their praises of both.

Last week our Junior Graduate Regent, Martha Morton, participated in several 'Green Cap' night special meetings, namely Melvindale, Rockwood, Ypsilanti, and Wayne. She has been invited to Coldwater, Lansing and Three Rivers for participation in the near future.

Chapter enrollment is Monday, April 13. Please come out, we need each and everyone of you.

The homemaking committee is holding a card party April 14 at 7:30. There will be door and table prizes and a lovely lunch will be served. Call your friends and make up a table, this committee needs your support.

Sumpter VFW Sets Fete

SUMPTER-The Sumpter VFW Post 5061 will hold a "Decoration of Post Colors" April 18 at 7 p.m., at the P.N.A. Hall, located at 45476 Harris Rd., near Sumpter Rd., Thomas Klein, adjutant, announced. Tickets are $5 per person and can be procured at the door. There will be beer and setups plus dancing by a five-piece combo.

LIFE HEALTH Stomach Disorders

Nothing can knock the smile from a face and take the joy out of living faster or more completely than stomach distress.

Poor digestion probably causes more human discomfort and actual suffering than any other single ailment.

But, the stomach, like the rest of the human body, depends on a proper flow of nerve energy from the brain to keep it functioning properly.

When anything interferes with the pipeline from the brain to stomach, upset can result. If neglected too long, serious stomach disorders can develop.

The chiropractor, with his knowledge of the nervous system and the spinal column, which is the trunk-line for the flow of nervous energy throughout the body, locates and corrects misalignments of the spine and frees vital nerve energy to do its proper task.

When the spinal column is properly aligned and the nervous system is functioning properly, through competent, gentle chiropractor adjustments, the vital nerve energy -- nature's own healing force -- maintains normal activity in the digestive system. PARA-PROFESSIONAL AT WORK — Mrs. Phyllis Green, one of nine paraprofessionals assisting teachers at the Gordonier Elementary School, is shown above assisting Mark Whites, third grader, do some extra school work. Road Toll Decreases

Michigan's traffic deaths in March numbered 150, a decrease of 23, or 13 percent less than 173 in the same month of 1969, State Police provisional figures, disclosed. The count was eight less than the average of 158 for that month in the five years 1965-69. The high March record of 179 was set in 1966, the low of 75 in 1933 when state record keeping began.

Gordonier School Brings World To Its Students

Programs Well Described

By Beverly McAnally

ROMULUS—If you can't take a school full of children on a trip around the country or the world, but if you are determined that they know there is a world full of people and ideas beyond their own neighborhoods what do you do?

If you are Mrs. Dolores Wells, principal of Gordonier Elementary School located at 29814 Smith Road, you bring as much of that world as possible to the children.

The most interesting things happen as a result of that type of thinking.

In fact, Gordonier is a pretty interesting place just to visit. On certain days of the week, a stately lady wearing a turban and a beautiful dress arrives.

She is Mrs. Puma Kisosonkole from Uganda and she assists those teachers who are working on units about Africa. Mrs. Kisosonkole has traveled extensively and brings with her many experiences to share with the Gordonier youngsters.

Those classes that are studying units on Asia are assisted by Vichitr Sinsiri, who is in America for only 10 months as part of a Fulbright-Hays Exchange Program.

Sinsiri might be seen demonstrating a lovely Thai Dance, for Thailand is his home.

Both these educators are consultants in the International Office of the Wayne County Intermediate School District.

On another day, a young man with a guitar is leading a group of children in folk singing. He is Jim Berlucchi, a member of the Outreach Program from the University of Michigan.

In another room Richard Sandler, a bearded young man, is surrounded by laughing youngsters who, with various instruments are trying to get music out of noise. He too is part of the Outreach Program.

There are six other young men and women, all members of Outreach, who spend each Tuesday morning assisting teachers through tutoring and by teaching special units. They are: Sandra Pascoe, Prudence Mass, Carolyn Glubok, Diane DePalms, Beth Copley and Rama Tripaltr.

Tripaltr assists two teachers with units about his home country, India.

Those employed through the para-professional program are: Mrs. Shelve Hensley, Mrs. Catherine Farr, Mrs. Ruby Nairemore, Mrs. Jackie Forsyth, Mrs. Caroline Michael, Mrs. Dorothy Hoag, Miss Vickie Slater, Miss Catherine Fifer and Mrs. Phyllis Green.

VICHITR SINSIRI

Another striking thing about Gordonier School is the use of the building. Gordonier is a handsome structure, built in 1958, and under Mrs. Wells influence, is "busy".

There seems to be some sort of activity on nearly every foot of floor space. There are no empty halls, or rooms, or offices. A corner of one hall makes a fine private teaching station for a para-professional and a little boy who are going over some work more slowly than the classroom schedule allows.

"Movement" might be a good word to describe what happens at Gordonier, but it is not disorder; just movement and action. There are many people going about doing things and being interested in what they are doing. In the kitchen a lady sits at a table figuring, she is

MRS. PUMA KISOSONKOLE

In addition to these, there are nine para-professionals who are Gordonier community residents and assist teachers in the classroom. They have been hired and trained as a result of state and federal programs, and help free the classroom teacher to spend more time with individual children.

Local Scout master Seeks Election For Treasurer

ROMULUS -- Charles R. Kline, 34, Scoutmaster of a Romulus Boy Scout Troop, has decided to seek election to the position of Treasurer of the City of Romulus. Kline, who resides at 30282 Cherry Ave., made his decision based on the fact that he feels Romulus will be another major city in Michigan in the next ten years and believes he is qualified with enough foresight and progressive planning experience to project the needs of each of the areas of the city and community living.

The experience and training that Kline would be bringing into the City Government, if elected, includes the following:

Four years at the University of Arizona, during which time he had been active in College politics and was elected president of his political organization.

He has furthered his education with additional courses and seminars at Wayne State University, with such courses as the Management of People, the Management of Business and Business Control. His most recent position has been with Burroughs Corporation in the position of Manager of Engineering. He is presently conducting his own consulting firm in Business Consultation and Money Management.

Kline has a continuous record of involvement in community affairs including a past Rotarian, active member of the Pacoima (Calif.) Community Center, Blackwood (N.J.) Civil Affairs League, a member of the Youth Board for the Community Center in Wilmington, Delaware, and is now serving as Scoutmaster for the fourth time.

Kline has served in the United States Air Force, receiving an honorable discharge in October, 1957. He is a home owner in Romulus, Diamond Point Development.

Kline feels that if people decide to live in an area then they should all give to that community that they can in terms of support or physical action.

His wife Lucy, and his two sons, Harvey and Glenn, like Kline, feel that of all the various areas where they could have settled in, Romulus affords the greatest in terms of what is here and what could be brought here through proper government and fiscal planning. A third child is expected in late July.

In terms of his own personal character, Kline is one of those individuals who will speak his mind and thoughts openly without reservation on those subjects that he disagrees with.

As he states, "as long as there is a thought, or part of a thought, that might be useful, or adaptable, then I shall speak out for it, or listen to it."

Individuals who would desire to know what Kline's thoughts are, or to ask questions, please call his Campaign Headquarters at 941-5677.

Security Announces Opening Of New Branch

ROMULUS—Open-house festivities on April 13 through April 17, will mark the grand opening of the Security Bank and Trust Company's 20th office at 9950 Wayne Road, at I-94, Romulus.

The new unit which opened for business last March 16, replaces the trailer which served as temporary quarters.

Refreshments will be served and free gifts will be given to all members of families who attend the celebration. Lowell L. Peacock, president of the bank, announced.

A choice of an American Walnut Hostess Electric Hot Tray or a Queen Ann Electric Casserole Dish will be given free to customers opening a savings account for $100 or more, or adding $100 or more to an existing account at this office. (Limit one per family.)

color television sets will be given away at a grand prize drawing to be held Friday, April 17, at 7 p.m.

Visitors may register at the bank during regular hours -- 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday; 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Wednesday; and 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Friday. It is not necessary to be present at the drawing to win one of the grand prizes.

Richard Lilly is manager of the new office. The staff includes: Barbara Zambrowski, acting head teller; Delores Kravez, receptionist; and Rosemary Piotkiewicz and Patricia Kubus, tellers.

The new building is constructed in a contemporary design with beige face brick and natural limestone with an accent panel of Michigan fieldstone.

The office provides full service banking facilities with safe deposit boxes and night depository services. There is ample parking and two drive-in windows for customer convenience.

PROTECT YOUR BACK WEEK--is now being observed in the Belleville area. Mayor Royce E. Smith Scans over a proclamation designating the week of April 5-11 as "Protect Your Back Week." Dr. James D. Henry, local chiropractor looks on.

Wallis Will Not Seek Re-Election

ROMULUS—Joseph Wallis, Romulus Township treasurer, announced Monday that he is not seeking re-election in the special election May 7.

Township voters will be voting on a proposed City Charter and non-partisan offices of mayor, clerk, treasurer and seven councilmen called for under the charter on May 7.

Wallis has been township treasurer since 1963. He is serving his third two-year term.

"I am not running for re-election in the special election, May 7," Wallis said. "If the township voters reject the proposed City Charter, my present term of office will not expire until November, 1970. Since I become of retirement age in May, I may not finish my present term," he added.

Joseph Wallis

Wallis will be 62 in May and can retire at that age, or he can serve government until the age of 65.

As secretary of the Romulus Planning Commission, Wallis, who resides at 3001 Eureka Rd., has participated in nearly every major planning development in Romulus.

He was born in Detroit and has resided in Romulus since 1952.

He and his wife, Helen, are parents of two sons, Raymond, who is with the State Social Services, Wayne County General Hospital, and William, who is employed at Chrysler Engineering, Highland Park, Mich. plant. Prior to his election as township treasurer, Wallis was township building inspector. He was appointed to this post in September, 1955.

New Boston Rotarians Hear Congressman Ford

NEW BOSTON—United States Congressman William D. Ford (D-15th District) was the featured-guest speaker at the March 31 dinner-meeting of the New Boston Club.

Congressman Ford did not make a formal presentation, but talked on a number of subjects related to the problems of today.

Varied questions from the Rotarians were presented to the congressman. They included: What is the present situation in Vietnam? What is being done to handle the postman's strike? What steps are being taken to prevent students from leaving this country to help harvest sugar cane in Cuba? Where does the U. S. Government stand on tax reform?

Congressman Ford answered the questions from the speaker's podium and hopes that his answers helped the Rotarians in understanding the problems the politicians must face when Congress is in session.

Congress was in recess during the Easter weekend and this allowed Ford to visit with his constituents and brief them on the latest progress on world issues.

Ford indicated his interest in students both on the secondary and college levels. His recent visits to the Huron and Belleville High Schools were rewarding. He stated that, "These Students want to be heard and they should be given the opportunity to be listened to."

He is of the opinion that the voting age should be lowered to 18 years of age, because they have been given the responsibility to defend their country and are asked to help curb crime, drug abuse and other special reform and society needs their assistance and efforts in making this country a better place in which to live.

PTA Has Meeting

ROMULUS—The Beverly Elementary School's PTA presented an informative and interesting program at their meeting of March 25. Mrs. Sally Arrington, PTA president announced.

Safety Group Appoints

EAST LANSING, Michigan Women For Highway Safety, a newly formed, state-wide group whose slogan is "Womanpower comes from the heart," has recently announced the appointment of Mrs. Roy Schultz, 7854 Lilley Rd., Plymouth, as Wayne County Committee Chairman for Region I.

The new organization, the only woman's group in the state devoted solely to traffic safety programs, has the sponsorship of 25 women's organizations, the Michigan Office of Highway Safety Planning, Traffic Safety for Michigan, and Michigan State University's Highway Traffic Safety Center, which is acting as secretariat.

Michigan Women For Highway Safety was formed to institute and support programs and legislation designed to lessen the rising toll of traffic accident victims and fatalities.

Any woman interested in joining the organization should contact Mrs. Roy Schultz.

A panel discussion concerning the school millage was held. Chief of police Jacob J. Koch spoke about more cooperation between the citizens of the community and the police force. Mrs. Jean Savage explained about the Senior Girl Scouts and encouraged the girls to remain in scouting.

Mrs. Arrington said that about 35 people attended the meeting. She also reported that the Dads' Patrol that has been making unscheduled inspection trips around Beverly School had recently interrupted an attempted break-in.

A window was broken but no further damage was done. The intruder escaped before he could be identified, she said.

CONSUMERISM...

SUDDENLY EVERYONE IS AWARE OF IT

... and they should be.

For consumer satisfaction is today, and always has been, the only real basis for success of any product or company.

More than a century ago, our founders recognized this when they established A&P Policy.
That policy to this day hangs in every A&P Store.

Automated, computerized, streamlined as we are, we still live by that A&P Policy.

The difference is that today we give this sound basic policy broader dimensions.
Giving full measure means more to your modern A&P than just 16-oz. to the pound.
It means really caring about people,
about what you sell them,
about the price you charge them.
We do and always have ... which may be the reason that this week over 20 million people will come to A&P to make their purchases.

THE A & P POLICY

Always to:

Do what is honest, fair, sincere, and in the best interests of every customer

Extend friendly satisfying service to everyone

Give every customer the most good food for her money

Assure accurate weight every time—
16 oz. to each pound

Give accurate count and full measure

Charge the correct price

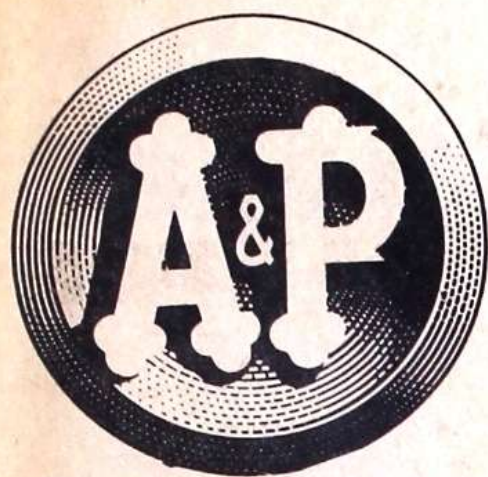

Cheerfully refund customer's money if for any reason any purchase is not satisfactory

THE GREAT ATLANTIC  & PACIFIC TEA CO.

This A&P Policy, established a century ago, still hangs in every A&P Store. It is as sound for today's modern A&P as it was 100 years ago.

Prep Trackmen Get Down To Business

With or without the cooperation of the weatherman — area track teams get down to the serious business of dual meet competition this week.

All teams have nonleague meets scheduled this week.

Most teams tuned up for the season by participating in the annual Eastern Michigan University Huron Relays and the Michigan State University Spartan Relays. None of the area prep teams, however, were successful.

Preps will head for Mansfield, Ohio on Friday to take part in one of the biggest invitational meets of the year.

Belleville, with veteran athletes Garrade Pettus and Larry Merritt, host Wayne Memorial Tuesday for its first nonleague dual meet test of the season.

The Tigers have a new head coach, Ken Head, to guide them this season. Head, who also coached cross country, takes over from Marland Howard who left the school for another teaching position.

Belleville opens up the Suburban Six Conference on Thurs., April 16 against Redford Union at R.U.

Wayne Memorial, with a nucleus of four top-notch trackmen on hand, could surprise many in the tough Sauk Trail Conference League.

"I feel we should have a successful year," said coach Bill Hawley. "We have a host of returning letterwinners who could do the job for us."

Wayne has cut the number of dual meets this season to eight. The Wayne coach explained: "I felt the boys were not getting enough proper training to improve during the season."

"Therefore we cut the number of meets so that we could prepare the boys, he said.

The Zebras have back in the lineup Ernie Righetti, the league's 1969 champ in the 220 yard dash and the school's record-holder for the quarter-mile. He's run a 22.2 and a 50.4 for the events.

Also back is Ben Cline, a senior pole vaulter who set the regional record last year at 13'4" and who also placed fifth in the state and claimed the league championship last year.

Coach Hawley feels that before the season's over Cline could reach 14 feet.

The Zebras have an All-Area cross country ace in returning lettermen Gary Schultz and Rich Meyer.

Hawley To Compile Track Times

The Associated Newspapers starting next week, will again list the top six high school track and field performances in each of the 14 events throughout the season.

Bill Hawley, Wayne Memorial head coach, will compile the listing each week for the newspapers. Coach Hawley can be reached by telephone at 728-0367 after 7 p.m.

Meyer holds the school's 2-mile record at 9:52 while Schultz won the Western Wayne Cross Country Invitational and the league title in the 2-mile.

Huron also has a flock of letterwinners back who will be handled by rookie track coach Lee Smeltzer. Smeltzer received his baptismal as a grid coach, ending the football season with a dismal record.

Apparently, he will have more smiles than frowns in track. The Chiefs won their opener last week.

Wayne Schimming will be handling the head track coaching duties at Romulus this season, taking over from Walt Cerulla, who has been sidelined because of a spinal injury.

Schimming, a graduate of Adrian College, will have the problem of rebuilding a squad riddled by graduation and left with only five lettermen.

The new coach will get his baptismal from Monroe

Catholic Central, a nonleague rival who'll visit Romulus on Thursday at 4 p.m.

"We're a young club with little experience and no depth at all," said coach Schimming. "And this will be a rebuilding year for us."

The Eagles do have a respectable hurdler in John Arrington and a potentially outstanding sprinter in Brent Hamilton while Gary Martin is a dependable quarter-miler, but, where the rookie coach will go from there for talent is anyone's guess.

It Happens Every Spring

A sixth round baseball draft choice. Not bad for an 18-year-old righthander, considering the thousands of youngsters who graduate from high schools across the nation each year with stardust — or is it diamond dust (?) in their eyes.

The sixth round — that's when Detroit Tigers scouts grabbed Wayne's Frank Fisher a year ago and got him to sign a contract. No, Fisher wasn't one of those big "bonus babies" you read about — but he had the potential — and the pros were ready to gamble on him.

"I was driving home from Cobo Hall with my girlfriend after graduation ceremonies," recalls the 195-pound, 6-4 former Wayne High star, "when I heard sportscaster Ray Lane announce that the Tigers had drafted me in the sixth round.

"Boy was I surprised! I thought at the time that someone was pulling my leg. But it was true. The next day someone from the Tigers came over — I can't even recall who it was — and I signed a contract."

Fisher received no bonus for signing, but was awarded a $5000 scholarship toward any college he wished to attend.

Reflecting on those anxious days last June, Fisher said he would have handled his negotiations a bit differently if it were today.

"When I think that I was picked sixth in the draft — that isn't bad. If I knew then what I know now, I think I would have gotten a better deal for signing."

Another regret, Fisher related, was "that mother wasn't around for the signing."

"She loved baseball. In fact, mother was the one who shoved me into baseball. She followed me through Little League right up to high school ball. But a few weeks before the Tiger announcement, she passed away."

Nervous-But Not Afraid

Fisher, who played three years on Wayne Memorial's varsity squad and was guided by coach Gary Green, now has a year of pro experience under his belt.

How did that initial year feel?

"It was tough," he says. "Most of the boys get homesick at the end of the season and, when you figure that you play something like 70 games in 68 days, well, you're also pretty tired."

Fisher was shipped off to Bristol, Tenn., to play in the Appalachian League. He was fortunate, however, to have a Westland resident, Bill Lajoie, to manage the ball club.

"He's really a swell guy," said Fisher, of his manager. "If it weren't for him, life would be really miserable. Bill also was selected last year as the "All-Star Coach" for the league.

Did Fisher make that All-Star team?

"Nope. I got off to a shaky start and won three of eight starts. But my earned run average was the best in the league until the final week when I started to get a bit wild."

Frank's roommate is also from the area. Darryl Busen, former Fordson High pitching ace, shares a room while the two are in Bristol. In Wayne, Frank resides with his father on Eastlawn.

Along with a score of others, Fisher last month headed for Lakeland, Fla., to try out for the parent team.

Did he have any hopes of making the grade?

"I don't know. It's difficult to say because there's so much involved. All of us are nervous, believe me, from the veteran to the beginner. None of us can predict what will happen."

"But you can't be afraid in this business and say, 'I can't make it,' because this or that guy has the job sewed up. If you go anywhere with that kind of attitude, you're in the wrong business."

"All I know is that I have nothing to worry about. I love baseball and I want to play ball. And I'm 19. If you really want to make it, you will."

With that sort of attitude, don't be surprised if you hear a lot more from Frank Fisher.

Seniors Boost Hopes

Huron Coach Optimistic

There is a stage production on Broadway these days called "Fences" and it's a smash hit. At Huron, according to baseball coach Ron Smith, there are a lot of "new faces" this season and, whether the Chiefs will be a hit will largely depend upon them.

"We have six letterman back from last year," pointed out coach Smith. "That means we will have to try out a lot of new players to fill up the holes."

"Though 11 of the 17 we have out are seniors, most of the players are inexperienced," he said.

The Chiefs had a dismal inaugural year in the Huron Conference last year. Huron finished with a 5-14 record, and despite a flock of seniors, coach Smith stressed "that it will be a rebuilding year for his team."

"Our seniors must come through for us if we are to go anywhere. If they don't I'll be forced to play our underclassmen."

We're going to have to try something this year in order to snap out of it," Coach Smith remarked.

The bright spots in the coming campaign are the return of pitcher Craig Adaline, short stop Don Delano, first baseman Jerry Dulecki, infielder Bob Guntow and outfielders Butch Suemnick and Dan Dilks.

Belleville Par 3 Course Opens

The 18-hole "Par 3" golf course at Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville is now open.

Fees are $1.50 Monday through Friday and $2.00 on Saturday, Sunday and holidays. Due to increased operational and maintenance costs, each rate has been increased 50 cents for 1970.

Equipment provided includes a putter and a nine or seven iron. Persons may use their own golf balls or purchase them from the park. Course hours are from 8 a.m. to dusk daily, with extended hours later in the season.

Over 255,000 persons have used the course since it was dedicated in May of 1961, with over 18,900 persons in 1969 compared to 20,300 in 1968.

To reach the park, visitors should take the Edsel Ford (I-94) Freeway and use the Haggerty Road Interchange to reach the park entrance along Hannan Road, which is 1/2 mile south of the freeway.

Lower Huron Park is located 25 miles from downtown Detroit and the Haggerty Road Interchange is located between Metropolitan Airport and Belleville.

The Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority also operates an 18-hole "Par 3" course at Metropolitan Beach near Mt. Clemens and an 18 hole, 6,400-yard Par 71 course at Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford.

For additional information, persons may phone (Belleville) 697-9181.

"I remain optimistic. With these boys back in the lineup we should improve. They saw plenty of action last year and also played in our summer baseball program."

"If they have a decent year, we should do all right," Smith said.

the Huron coach figures Carlson and Blissfield as the leading pre-season title contenders in the conference.

"Carlson has one of the finest pitchers in the area in Greg Cole and Blissfield and a lot of its players are back, so you know they're going to be tough," he said.

Huron is scheduled to open up its league season today against Airport but due to field conditions at Huron High the game probably will be played at Airport.

Friday's game with Tecumseh also will be rescheduled at the latter's field because of the field.

"We're going to have to reverse most of our earlier scheduled games," said coach Smith, "because our field is in deplorable shape. There's a lot of work to be done before we will be able to play at home," he said.

A 200-year-old working windmill, De Zwaan, dominates the lowlands and tulip fields around Holland, Michigan. De Zwaan was brought over from the Netherlands and reconstructed and it is open to visitors, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Romulus 'Big Sticks' Could Produce Title

Romulus head baseball coach Lowell Johnson is "carrying the big sticks" this season, "and definitely won't be walking softly" if he can get in a couple of "decent" practice sessions in before the Twin Valley Conference gets underway.

"I have the sluggers this year, but we can't do anything because of the weather and that would depress anyone," said coach Johnson whose team finished second to Ecorse in the title race last year.

Romulus compiled an overall 12-6 record and a 8-3 league mark.

Those "big sticks" include All-Area sluggers Ray Horn who batted .431, and Paul Seestedt, a .321 swinger in the previous campaign.

And Johnson also has seven other letterwinners along with Seestedt and Horn to make his demands upon the conference title a legitimate one.

But where the Eagles hurt most-the spot most coaches feel is the most important-is on the mound. Romulus has only one holdover from last year's squad, and he's southpaw hurler, Lee Ballard who wound up with a 4-4 record.

Johnson, however, is looking at Leon Jones and Albert Gilinski to fill in the (Continued on 2nd Sports)

Huron Thinclads Win Opening Meet

Neither inclement weather nor Brighton could stop Huron Saturday as the Chiefs breezed to 10 first places and a 70-48 opening meet victory over their non-conference rivals.

The victory also marked the debut of Lee Smeltzer as Huron's head track coach.

Huron's Jeff Reeves

became the area's first triple winner as he earned victories in the high and low hurdles, posting times of 18.3 and 23.4, respectively.

He also won the pole vault, stopping at nine feet after his opposition quit.

Dave Edge proved best in the dashes as the Huron sprinter was clocked at 10.2 for the 100 yard and 24 even for the 220.

Joel Rickert and Jim Callihan contributed the one-mile and 2-mile events, respectively, on 5:13 and 11:23.1 performances.

John Rietz hurled the shot 36 feet and Ed Smith leaped 17'11" for other Huron victories.

The foursome of Ed Smith, Dave Miles, Bill Rouse and Edge gave the Chiefs the 880-yard relay event. (Continued on 2nd Sports)

Pettus Places 4th at Spartan Relays

Belleville, Wayne Memorial and John Glenn thinclads managed to pick up points at the annual Michigan State University Spartan Relays held at the Jenison Fieldhouse over the weekend.

John Glenn's senior hurdler, Greg Hubbard, cleared the 70 yard low hurdles in 8.5 second to place third. Del Williams of Flint Northwestern ran an 8.4 to win the event.

Belleville's Garrade Pettus came up with an "underpar" performance in high jump, leaping 5'9" to wind up in fourth place. He cleared 6'2" a week before at the Eastern Michigan University sponsored Huron Relays.

Bruce Littlejohn of Jackson earned the gold medal at HSU in high jump with 6'2".

Taylor AC Captures Romulus Cage Title

Taylor A.C., sponsored by the Taylor A.C. Lounge of Taylor, has convincingly walked off with two basketball championships. The tough rebounding, fast break team swept to the title in the men's Romulus Recreation League.

By winning the League title the Taylor team qualified for the Highland Park Inter-City Tournament. This tournament saw league winners from Pontiac, Livonia, Inkster, Roseville-East Detroit, Dearborn, Plymouth, and Waterford, vie for the crown at Hackett Fiels House in Highland Park.

The Romulus team gave a demonstration of superior shooting and rebounding as they swept to three straight convincing victories. The first victim was the Pontiac representative, the Romulus team scoring a 71-55 victory.

Inkster then fell by a

75-44 score. In the championship game the Romulus representative gave a fine account of itself and the final score registered Romulus 72, Waterford 59.

In the Romulus League the Taylor A.C. team was hard pressed for the league lead throughout the entire season by several good, well balanced teams. The league championship was actually decided on the last night of the regular season as the Taylor A.C. team was dead-locked with the Unistrut team, each club having identical 12-3 records. In that game Taylor A.C. tallied 81, Unistrut 50.

The Taylor A.C. team has been led the entire season by two All-League guards, Darwin Wessels and Lodie Parker. These two playmakers have led the fast break which allowed the Taylor A.C. team to average almost 80 points a game. It should be noted that this 80 point average was accomplished despite the fact that most games were played with a running clock. (The clock did not stop on whistles.)

On the front line the team was led by 6'6" William Horchem, 6'4" Darrell Williams, and 6'1" Robert Malicki. Malicki, another All-League selection, can jump with the best and he was a top rebounder despite being only 6'1".

Center Schedules Talk On Charter

ROMULUS—Speakers from the Romulus Charter Commission will be at the Neighborhood Action Center to comment on the proposed City Charter for Romulus.

The Center is located at 35351 Beverly Rd. and the City Charter talks are scheduled for April 10 at 7 p.m. A public invitation has been extended.

Don's Par 3 Announces New Name

BELLEVILLE—Don's "Par 3" Golf Course, located at 50521 Huron River Drive, south of Lake Susterka, is now known as Don's Executive Golf Course.

The name change was announced Monday and it was selected to more appropriately describe the expanded facilities and improvements now available to Michigan's golfing enthusiasts.

The Golf Course, owned and operated by Don Bastedo, has been expanded to 18 holes with modern club house and related facilities.

The season at Don's Executive Golf Course opens April 15. Club rentals are available. A season pass is $75 and for additional family members, $25 each.

Daily rates are $2 for 18 holes; $1.50 for nine holes. Saturday and Sunday, $3 for 18 holes and $2.50 for nine holes. Two-light (6:30 p.m.) rate is $1.25.

Concerned Parents Group Aids School Activity

ROMULUS—An after school recreation program for fifth and sixth grade boys and girls has been started at four elementary schools in Romulus.

Enthusiastic youngsters meet one afternoon a week at Mt. Pleasant, Gordonier, Beverly and Cory Elementary schools under the sponsorship of the Romulus Concerned Parents Association.

In the Fall of 1969, the Family and Neighborhood Services Agency invited parents from most areas of the township to begin meeting weekly to deal with problems that affected their families.

The group decided to call themselves the Romulus Concerned Parents Association, feeling that one way to help families was to be concerned about the larger community and to work together to find solutions to their mutual problems.

"We want to take action and not just talk!" was the sentiment expressed by the group, and they began by approaching the Romulus Township Recreation Commission, where they learned there was no money for after school recreation programs in elementary schools.

Robert L. McConeghy, superintendent of Romulus schools, endorsed the use of elementary buildings provided the programs were held during weekdays and were well supervised.

With volunteers from each area represented in the Concerned Parents group acting as supervisors, a program was begun.

Mrs. Mary Pocze and Mrs. Sharon Champagne, from the Mt. Pleasant school area, have introduced a program of recreation and physical fitness for the fifth and sixth grade girls.

Fifteen girls are attempting to meet the requirements of the President's Program for Physical Fitness. Robert Champagne is working with other parents planning a program for fourth and fifth grade boys. Their program is held on Monday.

At the Cory Elementary School, Mrs. Mary Ann Hearst and Mrs. Suzanne Cooke meet each Tuesday with more than 40 youngsters. Miss Gaynelle Hopson from Eastern Michigan University and Walter Miller, a Romulus High School student, assist with the games and activities. Also at Cory, Mrs. Jan Hansen is conducting an Arts and Crafts program for 15 students.

More than 50 boys and girls are participating in a program each Friday at Beverly School, according to Mrs. Ruthie Hughes, chairman. Those who assist with the activities are:

Mrs. Mozella Jones, Mrs. Sally Arrington, Fred Williams, William Jones and Mrs. Mahalia Bailey.

Mrs. Hughes is especially pleased with the help being given by Don Bailey, Ray Brown, Wallard Higgins and Lee Otha Hughes, Romulus

High School students.

Mrs. Mary Paratchek reported that 15 sixth graders took part in the opening session at Gordonier school. The committee includes: Mrs. Nancy Walker, chairman; Mrs. June Ireland, Mrs. Dolores Minard and Mrs. Fayne James, Romulus High School volunteers are Charles Decker and Frank Smith.

Recreation for adults has also been planned. Mrs. Mattie Hester, assisted by Mrs. Irene Russell, has given leadership to an adult recreation night on the third Wednesday of each month.

They meet at the United Methodist Church, 11190 Olive Street, at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Hester has issued a standing invitation to community residents to join the fun and begin to know others.

The elementary programs are well attended by the youngsters, but more parent volunteers are needed, particularly men.

If you can help out one afternoon a week, between 3:30 p.m. and 5 p.m., please call the Family and Neighborhood Services at 941-9590.

STEPPING LIVELY — The Romulus Concerned Parents Association is sponsoring and supervising after school recreational programs. Above is one of the many actions — a game of kickball by students at the Beverly Elementary School. In this activity, excellent for participants, everyone steps lively.

PARENTS PARTICIPATE — An after-school recreational program at Mt. Pleasant Elementary School under the supervision of Romulus Concerned Parents Association finds members of the association taking part in a spirited game of volleyball. The association was formed in the fall of 1969.

Community College Branch Is Approved

ROMULUS—Approval for a proposed continuing education program was granted by the Romulus Community Schools Board of Education, at their meeting on March 23.

A motion by board member Gerald Budd signaled the beginning of arrangements for the opening of a branch of the Wayne County Community College, an extension service for graduate credits from Eastern Michigan University, as well as a continuation of the Adult Education, High School Completion, vocational, enrichment and recreational programs that are now in force or being planned.

A sub-committee of the Policy Advisory Council had been working diligently for many weeks to prepare a comprehensive post high school program that would be in keeping with the goals of the school district.

Coach Smeltzer was not only pleased with his team's day performance but with the over-all shape of his team.

"We have some excellent trackmen," coach Smeltzer said. "We're pretty shallow in some events, but I feel we're going to have a good season."

State Alerts Landowners To Fire Prevention Rules

With spring fires starting to take their toll in southern Michigan, the Department of Natural Resources alerts landowners to new safeguards in the state's forest fire law.

The new provisions, designed to cut Michigan's wild fire losses, make it unlawful now to discard any burning materials—lighted matches, cigarettes, ashes, etc.—in forest and grassland areas.

They also specify the type of containers which must be used for burning debris in these rural areas if landowners do not obtain permits for such projects from the DNR or local fire departments.

The first change means, in essence, that all motorists traveling in rural parts of the state must use ashtrays in their vehicles to dispose of cigarettes, lighted matches, and the like. Under that new restriction, anyone who flicks such "smokes" into the countryside from a moving vehicle will be subject to a $100 fine and/or 90-day jail sentence.

Outdoor users who go afoot in rural areas also face the same possible penalties if they pose the threat of touching off wild fires by disposing of cigarettes and other burning materials which are not "dead out."

Before, they as well as motorists could be fined and/or jailed only if such

Belleville

Golfers Start From Scratch

Belleville and golf coach Bill Brandell will have to start from scratch this season. The Tigers, riddled by graduation, will have a brand new look when they launch the season next week.

Coach Brandell will have 24 potential golfers to pick from. The group will get together at Fellows Creek next week to compete for a berth on the squad.

"With no returning lettermen," said coach Brandell, "we got a lot of work ahead of us. And with the weather with what it is, we're far behind our pace."

actions did actually start fires.

The change covering debris burning in forest and grassland areas lists new safety specifications for containers used in these projects without burning permits. It requires landowners to set fire to their refuse in containers built of masonry or metal which have metal covers with openings no larger than three-quarters of an inch.

Rural residents must obtain permits if they use containers which do not meet these construction standards, or burn debris in the open.

Gun Show Scheduled April 12

Seventy leading manufacturers of firearms, ammunition, reloading equipment and shooting accessories will display their new product lines to the public on April 12.

To assist the sportsman, top authorities from the Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division of the Treasury Department will be on hand to answer any questions you might have regarding the new gun laws, transferring titles of firearms etc.

The show will be held Sunday only, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the Williams Gun Sight Co., 7389 Lapeer Rd., Davison (five miles east of Flint). There is no charge of any kind.

riddled pitching rotation. Both have good arms, but whether they can do the job is questionable.

Other returning letterwinners are Bill Worden, an outfielder who was sidelined in 1969 because of a severe cut in his arm; catcher John Toparek and third baseman Frank Mayeran.

"We have the nuggets," said coach Johnson, "but whether they'll shine has a lot to depend on weather conditions."

Like all the other teams in the area, coach Johnson has had to take his squad indoors to practice. His schedule also has been wiped out for the week.

Today, however, his Eagles are to meet Wayne Memorial in a nonleague game. But don't bet on it—the weatherman predicts a rainy day. The Eagles clash with Lincoln Park Friday in an away game scheduled for 3:30 p.m.

Abner's Success Means Musicals Will Continue

WESTLAND -- A tall, strong hillbilly and his zany fellow Dogpatch citizens may have saved the day for musical stage productions at John Glenn and Wayne Memorial high schools.

Last month's three-night run of "Li'l Abner," played to a "standing room only" crowd two nights and almost had a full-house the last performance.

As a result, Abner Yokum and his strong-willed mammy and brow-beaten pappy, along with all the other patch-covered residents of the hillbilly society, were successful in permitting a musical production again next year.

Because of a previous lack of community support, "Li'l Abner" was the testing ground to see whether musicals would fall by the wayside in the Wayne Community School District. If it had "failed," then musicals would have been discontinued as being "unnecessary."

The story of Dogpatch and the fate of local high school musicals are uncanny in their similarity. In the musical, the citizens of Dogpatch had to find something that made the town "necessary" and it wasn't until the last act that "Pappy" Yokum digs up a plaque signed by Abraham Lincoln naming the place a national shrine.

Similarly, it wasn't until the last musical that brought the response which keeps alive the productions.

"There's no doubt about it. If 'Li'l Abner' had not come through successfully, musicals would be 'dead' in our schools for now," explained Lois Tobin, John Glenn drama instructor.

But the country boy in overalls came through.

"Our thanks go to the entire community for its fine support," Mrs. Tobin continued. "They deserve the credit for their response and we also thank Bruce Graden, vocal music instructor, and David Wickham, instrumental instructor. Without them, it could not have been the success it was."

Mrs. Tobin said that as of now Wayne Memorial will have the big musical next year, but the success of "Li'l Abner" will make it possible for John Glenn to do a large dramatic production. The community, some feel, will not support two musicals a year, so the plan is to alternate them between Glenn and Wayne High each year.

Those participating in the musicals receive the biggest sense of accomplishment, but the enthusiasm spills over into the entire community.

I have participated in four of the five John Glenn musicals and I feel this is the one school activity that involves most students and faculty, leaving all participants with a feeling of accomplishment," commented senior Garry Schleicher, who played General Bullmoose in "Li'l Abner. He was the sheriff in "Music Man, Sitting Bull in "Annie Get Your Gun" and Inspector Barnes in "Bells are Ringing."

Sue Miller, who was outstanding as Mammy Yokum, said:

"To me, our musicals combine the ingredients of hard work, responsibility and a situation to learn. It gives me and many others the opportunity to present something enjoyable and worthwhile to our community."

Dave Herge, another senior, brings a flair to whatever role he plays. As "Marryin' Sam," he had the flamboyancy to fit the part.

"Presenting a musical gives many students a chance to work together for three nights of well-earned personal satisfaction," he says. "Musicals lift the school spirit and for many it is the highlight of the entire school year."

David Wickham, instrumental music director at John Glenn, added:

"As a teacher, and I think I speak for the other staff members too, it is perhaps the most tiring but rewarding time of the year. The educational gains the students receive have a fringe benefit when the community comes out as they did this year to provide a "live" audience to respond to their efforts."

Dave Burrows and Brenda Meriwether, as Abner and Daisy Mae, did a fine job. In fact, everyone in the cast and production staff, in front and behind the curtain, did a top-notch job.

Roger Carlisle was very delightful and authentic as Pappy Yokum.

But most important of all, "Li'l Abner" has found something "necessary" about local high school musicals. He, like his domineering mammy, can say, "I has spoken!"

IT'S OFFICIAL—City Clerk Addison W. Bacon pauses in midst of reading election returns Monday night to tell crowd at Livonia City Hall: "It looks like we have a new mayor." Bacon was unopposed in his bid for city clerk and was re-elected automatically.

PCHA Loan Closet Expands In Westland

Thanks to the PCHA, a "loan closet" which provides hospital beds for persons who are ill and cannot afford to purchase such a needed item is becoming a going project for members of Westland.

Developed by the Westland fire crews in their spare time, the closet has been operating about six months.

Last week the project got a shot in the arm with the announcement that 150 hospital beds are going to be made available to it by the Peoples Community Hospital Authority.

These will be released from the old Beyer Memorial Hospital building in Ypsilanti at the time the new $9 million Beyer unit becomes fully operable. Alan Case, administrator of Beyer, informed the PCHA Board of Directors that these manually-operated beds have been in use since 1948, have been fully depreciated, and will be replaced by new automatic adjustable beds.

The Board then by resolution cleared them for delivery to the loan closet with just one condition—that persons residing in member communities of PCHA have first chance to obtain these beds.

"We have sufficient demand right now for the entire 150 beds," said Bob Stottlemeyer, one of a three-man committee of Westland firemen in charge of the loan closet. "This marks the third set of beds we have distributed. At first our project was not well known but since receiving publicity in newspapers and over the radio, we have numerous requests for these beds."

"We certainly welcome this contribution from PCHA because it will enable us to help many people," Stottlemeyer added. Previously the loan closet had received several beds from Annapolis Hospital, another PCHA unit. Working with Stottlemeyer on the committee are Ed Ferguson and John Robinson.

Persons interested in applying for a loan closet bed are advised to call the Westland Fire Department, 721-2000.

Census Bureau Needs Workers

An appeal to residents of this area to apply for jobs as census takers for the 1970 Census of Population and Housing was issued today by Director Robert A. Yerkey of the Census Bureau's Regional Office in Detroit.

Applicants must be 18 years old or over and citizens of the United States. They will be required to pass a selection test demonstrating their ability to understand printing instructions and do simple arithmetic. Many will need a car in their work for which mileage will be paid.

Census takers will be paid on a piece rate basis designed to average $2.00 per hour nationally. Hourly earnings will vary depending on the diligence of individuals, according to the Regional Director who pointed out that some will earn well above the average, while others who work less effectively will earn less. The average assignment for a census taker will last from three to five weeks in April and May.

The Census Bureau is an equal opportunity employer. Candidates for census jobs may apply at the following places: 14700 Riverside Dr., Detroit 499-0112, 231 W. Lafayette, Rm. 302, Detroit 962-5736, 231 W. Lafayette, Rm. 314, Detroit 962-5732, 2275 Cole St., Birmingham 645-5945, First National Bank Bldg. 30078 Van Dyke, Warren 751-8300, Henry Ford Centennial Library, 16301 Michigan Ave., Dearborn 271-6500, 12590 Inkster Road, Redford Township 255-5640.

Hardwoods Help Kill Home Noise Echoes

Jittery nerves are a modern malady. Our noisy world ranges in tone from sonic booms to stereo blasts. Added to this are daily tensions that put a constant strain on the nerves.

It is impossible these days to find a quiet place. It might even be impractical, because we are somewhat attuned to noise waves as a normal background. But, they are disturbing.

There are ways to control and subdue noise-attacks (at least on the home-front) by using wall and ceiling materials with sound-deadening properties. Heavy drapes, thick carpets, upholstered furniture and wall paneling all help as sound-absorbing barriers.

Recent tests by an independent acoustical laboratory show a high resistance to noise transmission when prefinished hardboard paneling is used, as a facing material, over partition walls built of commonly-used backup materials.

When talking of noise intensity, acoustical engineers refer to "decibels", "sound transmission classification" and "STC ratings".

These are technical measurement terms-as "inches" and "feet" are to carpenters. Generally, an STC rating of 40 to 45 is considered very good for partitions in homes and apartments. The hardboard tests have established ratings above 50 STC and as high as 58 STC.

These ratings are well within the recommendations by FHA for acceptable noise transmission conditions in living quarters.

BLOCK GROUND MOISTURE BEFORE REMODELING—Slow seepage of water can be controlled with an interior waterproofer applied (left picture) to damp wall in two coats with a large brush. Work from the outside (center) if problem is big by digging a trench and coating the wall with waterproof cement or a tar and canvass combination. If floor leaks, have a professional add barrier and put in a new layer of cement on floor (right).

Seepage Can Be Stopped

When you start thinking about remodeling your basement, a look at the walls may show that your first job is going to be a life-or-death battle with seeping moisture. You can waterproof your basement walls from the inside, if you use ample care in the way you do it. And you can do the job yourself without too much difficulty. The three common causes of leaky basements are:

1. Settling—The earth under the wall takes its weight unevenly, resulting in cracks in the wall.
2. Workmanship—Either joint-work or blocks themselves may be faulty;

3. Water pressure—A hydrostatic head will drive water through pores that otherwise would be airtight. What ever the cause, there are two possible methods of stopping the leak. You put up a barrier, or you can reduce the pore size. The second method, achieved by using cement base waterproofing paint is to be recommended for amateur application.

Here are the steps to follow to stop wall seepage before paneling walls:

1. Wet down the wall with a hose, using a fine spray to get the wall uniformly wet. Spray the top blocks more than the lower ones.

2. Mix the waterproofing paint with water to make a mixture with the consistency of cream. Then, using a stiff brush, apply the mixture right into the wall with a circular motion, filling every pore. Put a coat on the bottom of the wall first, where water pressure is likely to be greatest. Then move to the top of the wall and work back to the floor.

3. Let waterproofer harden until it won't rub off. Then spray with more water. The next day, wet the wall down and brush on another layer of waterproofing paint. It takes two coats to do the job.

Then spray twice a day for a week. When the wall has dried and the damp spots indicated pores are not completely filled, chisel these places out and fill the cavity with mortar. Cement base waterproofing paint mixed according to directions will plug openings up to an eighth of an inch in diameter.

However, there are a few points to be aware of before trying to do the job yourself.

Don't attempt to waterproof a wall that has been coated with gypsum plaster. If a lime plaster was used, it probably is too badly contaminated with salts. Plaster made with portland cement or cement-lime binder can't be waterproofed unless the lime content is so high that the plaster is too soft.

Brick can only be handled by a good mason. If the wall is sound, he will cover the whole wall with mortar. Some walls will demand digging out the old mortar and repointing.

EDITOR'S NOTE: In an effort to improve our Home Improvement Page (no pun intended), Associated Newspapers Inc. plans to provide weekly ideas from area merchants for home improvement that most homeowners should be able to complete themselves. This week's information for checking seeping moisture in your basement was provided by the Fingerle-Hollister-Wood Lumber Co., 822 E. Michigan Ave., Ypsilanti. Needed materials may be obtained there.

'Airport' Is A Comfortable Film

By Howard Allen
Panax Amusement Critic

"Airport," now at the Northland, could set the movie industry back ten years-and what's wrong with that?

You remember ten years ago. It was socially acceptable for movies to just entertain in those days. They didn't have to prove the whole world was rotten or violent or sexy or corrupt. People over 21 were permitted to attend them. They even let senior citizens in.

Today, of course, every sensible person knows that movies must be relevant and with it. Adults hardly have a right to exist, much less attend movies. So how did they dare make "Airport?" It's all about adults who don't maim each other or strip each other or even try to import much of a message-save for a passing reference to the lack of planning by airports to handle future air traffic.

Burt Lancaster is the manager of Lincoln (really O'Hare) Airport in Chicago during the year's worst blizzard, trying to keep the airport open among a nightmare series of events including domestic problems, stowaways, pickets and a mad bomber who blows up a plane piloted by Lancaster's playboy brother-in-law, Dean Martin.

The sweep of Arthur Hailey's best seller is treated respectfully by writer-director George Seaton; the tension builds magnificently and unbearably.

There are so many name stars that you practically need a scorecard, but we noticed Jean Seberg and Dana Wynter, making up the triangle with Lancaster, Jacqueline Bisset as Martin's pregnant stewardess-mistress; George Kennedy as the airplane expert who must move a plane stuck in the snow before the blown-up airplane attempts to land; also Helen Hayes, who easily steals the picture as the impish stowaway; Van Heflin as the bomber and Maureen Stapleton as his frantic wife; Barry Nelson as Martin's straight copilot, and Lloyd Nolan as the customs man who first suspects the bomber.

And just for once we were content to let social relevance go to the devil.

There's enough social relevance for all in "MASH" (Fairlane), potentially an extremely funny comedy about a mobile army surgical hospital during the Korean War, which makes hospital care seem far more hazardous than the battlefield.

But unfortunately, they try to slide in a little bit of that social significance-war pictures today are either socially significant or, like "Patton," totally reactionary-and the humor suffers. The picture also features some of the most bloody scenes of operations ever put on the screen; it looks more like the blood spattered surgeons are operating on sides of beef than on people. More social significance.

When the preaching stops there are some lively hijinx with Donald Sutherland, Elliott Gould and Dearbornite Tom Skerritt (formerly of the Players Guild and HFCC) as the medical goofs who become embroiled in every sort of circumstance ranging from attempts to collapse the bathing tent while a stacked but straight nurse is in there, to efforts to prove to a dental colleague that he isn't turning queer by turning a nurse loose on him.

Noted Performers Top Symphony Subscriptions

Isaac Stern, Vladimir Ashkenazy, Andre Previn, Mstislav Rostropovich, John Browning, and Robert Casadesus are among the famous musical personalities who will be appearing at the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's 1970-71 subscription concerts.

Guest artists and programs for next season's Thursday/Saturday concerts were announced by Symphony General Manager Marshall W. Tunkin.

As in the past, a total of 40 concerts will be presented on the subscription series at Ford Auditorium next season from September 17, 1970 to April 24, 1971. The concerts will be offered in various "series" or combinations, giving season ticket purchasers an opportunity to subscribe to as many as 22 or as few as 6 concerts among a variety of series plans. Such plans are a substantial bargain for music lovers, since the cost per concert is much lower than if tickets were purchased separately for individual programs.

A free brochure outlining all of the musical attractions and series plans is available from the Symphony office, 961-0700.

Tickets for individual concerts will not go on sale until September.

Several of the guest soloists on the 1970-71 series will be visiting the Symphony for the first time. They include Judith Ruskina and Sandra Darling, sopranos; Anastasios Vrenios, tenor; Edward Auer, pianist; Young Uck Kim, violinist; and Mstislav Rostropovich, the noted Soviet cellist. Also the family piano team of Robert, Jean, and Gaby Casadesus.

Robert Casadesus has performed with the Symphony before though this will be the first time for his wife, Gaby, and son, Jean.

Conductors Andre Previn and Gunther Schuller also will make their first appearances with the Symphony. Each will conduct a pair of concerts in December.

Henry Lewis, conductor of the New Jersey Symphony, and Werner Torkanowsky, conductor of the New Orleans Symphony, each will lead two weeks of the season.

Pierre Hetu and Paul Freeman, the Symphony's new Associate Conductor and Conductor-in-Residence, respectively, also will conduct programs.

Other soloists, all of whom have appeared with the Symphony, include Lorin Hollander, Evelyn Crochet, Mischa Kottler, and Maurizio Pollini, pianists; Gordon Staples, symphony concertmaster; Nathan Gordon, principal violist of the symphony; and Morely Meredith, tenor.

The Symphonic Metamorphosis, a rock ensemble of eight Symphony musicians, will be featured with the Orchestra in the world premiere of a new composition by Donald Erb.

Symphony members Robert Gladstone, principal bass; Dennis Smith, principal trombone; Robert Cowart, English horn principal; and Bogos Mortchikian, violinist, will be soloists at the annual "Concerto Night" program conducted by Sixten Ehrling.

Pianist Featured At Concerts

Joseph Kalichstein, the pianist who won the 1969 Leventritt Award, will make his first appearances with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra Thursday and Saturday at Ford Auditorium.

Valter Poole will conduct both concerts, scheduled for 8:30 p.m.

Kalichstein will be heard in the Beethoven Piano Concerto No. 4 in G Major.

Orchestral works on the same program will be the Mozart Symphony No. 35 in D Major ("Haffner"), Charles Ives' "Decoration Day"-to be performed for the first time in Detroit, and Manuel de Falla's ballet suite "The Three-Cornered Hat."

Kalichstein, 23, was born in Tel Aviv and went to New York in 1962 to study at the Juilliard School of Music, where he won a Martha Dwight Douglas Scholarship. As winner of the 1969 Leventritt Award, he received engagements this season with the orchestras of Chicago, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Buffalo, Denver, New Haven, Minnesota and New York as well as Detroit.

Poole will be making his last appearances in the role of Associate Conductor of the Symphony at Ford Auditorium subscription series concerts, though he will be conducting numerous other Symphony programs between now and his retirement at the end of August.

The average contribution to Care last year was $10.25. Largest was a $61,617 legacy.

Featured At Meadow Brook

Meadow Brook Theatre's Artistic Director John Fernald has announced the cast for Anton Chekhov's The Cherry Orchard which will open a three week run at Oakland University on Thursday at 8:15 p.m.

The Russian dramatist's most famous play concerns a cultivated, lovable family whose members refuse to act when it is apparent that they may lose their estate and their beloved cherry orchard. In a larger sense Chekhov warns that social change in a stagnant, imbalanced society is inevitable.

Jenny Laird heads the large cast that includes Toby Tompkins, Bonnie Hurren, Marshall Borden, Andrea Stonorov, Jeremy Rowe, William Needles, Janet McIntire, K.C. Wilson and Rhonda Rose. Other roles will be played by Richard

Fernald will direct The Cherry Orchard which will feature sets by Richard Davis and costumes by Ross B. Young. The Cherry Orchard will open a seven performance run at the Detroit Institute of Arts on Wednesday, April 29, at 2:30 p.m.

Tickets for The Cherry Orchard and for the current Meadow Brook production of Tennessee Williams' Summer and Smoke are available at all Hudson Ticket Offices, the Meadow Brook Theatre Box Office and the Detroit Institute of Arts Ticket Office. For further information please call 962-0353, 377-2000, Ext. 2305 or 832-2730.

Some Things Belong In The Community

There are a lot of things that could be done better on a regional level, rather than a local community level.

Transportation, water and sewage facilities, planning, roads and even police and fire protection could be set up on a regional level.

But there are some things that regional governments might not be better equipped to provide. Among those things is community improvements — which includes such projects as beautification, decorative planning and maintenance of a clean appearance for our communities.

For instance:

In Plymouth, a group of citizens is approaching the problem of properly developing a museum for a community that is especially proud of its traditions.

In Westland, a new community with little tradition to fall back on, a historical commission has been formed to find out what is left of Nankin Township history to preserve.

In Romulus, voters will have to decide whether they want to keep their community intact in an upcoming charter vote.

In Livonia, junk automobiles are a subject of concern, and the problem has been getting considerable attention.

In Inkster, the primary election campaign in that city has produced the idea for a beautification commission to make the community more attractive.

All of these projects require some inspiration, provided by residents of the local communities. The effort is undertaken by people themselves, not by bulldozers and giant machines.

The key word is pride, and it is good that our communities discover and cultivate it.

A Weighty Error

We goofed. More or less. It wasn't an outright mistake. Just a goof, and we hope this sets the record straight.

A couple weeks ago (March 18 to be exact), we printed an article on our front page about the TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly) Club in Livonia. The headline on the story read "Weight Watchers Meet."

Well, you may not know this (and we didn't), but there's an organization called Weight Watchers, Inc., which meets regularly for the purpose the name implies. And the ladies at Weight Watchers, Inc. are upset because they think our headline implies that Weight Watchers and TOPS are the same group. Which they are not.

It's all a mix up in headline wording, not unlike one recently pointed out by our Women's Editor from the Clinton (Okla.) Morning Times which read: "Herman Butt and Wife Slip on Icy Sidewalk and Fall on Their Last Names."

Sometimes things just don't work out the way you plan them.

A Perfect Profit

The recent Tri-City Legislative Dinner sponsored by the Chambers of Commerce of Garden City, Wayne and Westland was like a breath of fresh air in an otherwise dreary picture.

When one hears of disunity, strikes, riots and other disruptions, it is heartening to see these communities uniting to provide such a profitable undertaking.

More than 350 persons attended the affair at Garden City's swank new Garrison House at Cherry Hill and Venoy to enjoy a nice dinner and to converse informally with their elected officials.

The highlight of the get-together was U.S.

Senator Phil Hart's speech, but the real benefit came from the informal atmosphere which permeated the meeting. The mayors, councilmen and other city representatives were on hand from each city, along with county and state officials.

We applaud the forward-thinking Chambers for the idea. Hopefully, it will blossom into a yearly event which will be not only a uniting force for the area, but will be looked to as the social highlight of the year.

With unity and co-operation so needy in this hour, and citizens needing to know their elected officials better, it is hoped this year's dinner is only a first of many such ventures in the future.

Schweigert Bows Out

By Don Hoenschell

Acting Lt. Gov. Thomas F. Schweigert (R-Petoskey) will pitch for a top-level job in the U.S. Forest Service to help the nation save its environment.

He said he will know by mid-May his chances with the U.S. Department of Agriculture or the Department of the Interior.

Schweigert will leave state government Dec. 31 after 10 years as a northern Michigan Senator, barred by a geographical accident from running for a four-year term as lieutenant governor.

"Probably to the average voter it doesn't make much difference," he said. "The problem is the nomination process. You have to get through the convention."

Under the state's 1963 constitution, the governor and lieutenant governor run for office as a team. To the political power brokers, Schweigert lives too close to Gov. Milliken—67 miles down the Lake Michigan shoreline from Petoskey to Traverse City.

And Schweigert envisions a dead end for himself in Michigan politics.

"In Michigan, I can visualize at least a couple of (four-year) terms for Bill. By that time, I'd be 60 years old. So you are kind of locked in."

"I will have had the lieutenant governor's position for two years, for all practical purposes. If I could add anything to the ticket, I'd try. But the geography thing is the problem."

The special light on Schweigert's horizon is President Nixon's new Council on Environmental Quality, assigned to tackle the nation's ecological concerns.

It will need funding, staff and a good relationship with Congress, an administrative and political problem for which Schweigert feels himself ideally suited to help solve.

Of the nation's 40,000 foresters, Schweigert is the highest ranking in the political field. He has friends at all levels, and as acting lieutenant governor, key contacts in other states.

"In dealing with Congress, I would anticipate very little trouble," he said.

"A forester is a rare animal. He doesn't get involved in the political scene. He is either barred from it by civil service (the Hatch Act) or, if he's with industry, by his corporate bosses."

Schweigert came to Lansing as a state Senator in 1960 after working as a U.S. Forester in northern Michigan since 1948, when he was transferred from Missouri.

On March 20, Schweigert under a new law recognizing a vacancy created when Milliken became governor, was officially named as Michigan's first acting lieutenant governor in history.

His successor will have the shortened title of lieutenant governor.

Milliken has said he will handpick his own running mate. Rep. William P. Hampton (R-Bloomfield Hills) is publicly in the running, but others have been mentioned, Budget Director Glenn C. Allen, Labor Commissioner Barry Brown and Dr. John Dempsey. Milliken's aide in Detroit, Schweigert said no one has the inside track.

"It might be one of them, but the governor could come up with some different choice," Schweigert said.

As If We Had Tried

By Dick McKnight

There's nothing that irks me more than to hear a bunch of people talking at each other. No communication.

It was something like that in the aftermath of the violence at the Detroit Martin Luther King Dearborn Fordson high school basketball game at Trenton last month.

Although reports of what actually occurred varied incredibly, the issue finally broke itself down into the ugliest black and white terms. Most of the people involved appeared to be forming their opinions on the basis of race.

What actually occurred (by a mixing of the available opinions) was a general free-for-all in which members of both races ran about indiscriminately attacking each other. In the frenzy of the moment, there was no mistaking the identity of the enemy—his complexion betrayed him.

The horror of an incident in which five young people are hospitalized over something as parochial as a basketball game could only be matched by the statements that followed.

It made me sick to hear intelligent human beings say, in effect: "It will never work, blacks and whites can't live together, all we ever get is violence."

As if we had ever really tried.

As if our efforts to live with one other had earned us the right to be disappointed.

As if we had let down our guard long enough to be hurt.

Statements like these indicate that no one really wants to try, and in fact, that every repeated episode of racial conflict is an added excuse to continue not trying, and eventually to allow ourselves not even to pretend we are trying.

Western Wayne County has its share of black-white athletic contests, and no one is claiming that there is never a chance of violence. But, just because it's hard to live together doesn't mean we have the right to give up trying.

Even those of us who would deny we are biased, would find ourselves agreeing with others who say there is no hope for racial coexistence, let alone harmony. It is an infectious and absorbing disease.

I will agree with the senseless masses that there is no hope, as long as we as a community in western Wayne County and places like it, lack the ability to look within ourselves.

It should be obvious to everyone by now that the real answer lies within ourselves, where the true ugliness lives. There are simply not enough outside agitators in the whole world to create the mess we have made.

If we really let ourselves believe there is no hope, we must also accept the fact that we have no future.

Apathy Reigns Supreme

By Dann Barkume

that takes about five minutes and is totally painless.

We are concerned about the young today, saying that they are making too much noise, we like to call ourselves members of President Nixon's silent majority. The problem with the majority is that they are silent.

We are granted the right to vote in the Constitution. We are told to jealously guard that right. When election time comes around, however, nobody votes. Who can we blame.

We can't blame the young people. Those who are eligible make sure they vote. We can't blame the writers of the Constitution for they made sure the right to vote was included in the foundation of this country's government. We can't blame the lawmakers because they make sure the right to vote is preserved. We can only blame ourselves.

We as Americans are apathetic. Mr. Nixon doesn't appeal to a silent majority, he appeals to a major portion of the American electorate who are apathetic. They just don't care, one way or the other.

Whatever happened to Uncle Sam?

We say live and let live, the kids should be silenced, my congressman hasn't voted the right way since he has been in office, I don't like the way they are running things in Lansing, and on and on.

Have we ever tried to do anything about it. Involvement starts at the polls. We can control who makes those decisions by casting our vote on election day. We have a right to vote. Why not use it.

1970 will be a year of many elections. We have senatorial election and a gubernatorial election as well. If you are registered to vote, then by all means vote. If you are not registered, register; its free.

After all, we owe it to ourselves.

Don't Forget Campaign Suggestions

By Rosemary Wolock

Once the sound and the fury of Inkster's municipal elections are over, I hope some of the proposals made by candidates in the heat of the electoral battle will not be forgotten.

Several candidates mentioned the need for some type of program to make citizens aware of how they can cooperate with the police to prevent crime.

While a crime awareness program is no substitute for increased law enforcement personnel, the attitude of the citizenry toward crime and criminals can have an effect on the crime rate.

Similarly, several candidates made mention of the drug problem. Once called for an addict withdrawal center in Inkster; several others also made suggestions along these lines.

I hope these suggestions will not also be forgotten. It has become more and more obvious that the need for heroin and other drugs is at the root of many break-ins, thefts, purse snatchings, muggings and armed robberies in Inkster.

Several of the candidates mentioned a teen council, teen club or more recreation for teenagers. Only one candidate seems to be aware of the fact that the recreation department is currently attempting to implement this type of program.

At any rate, I hope that after the election the council will support this effort so that Inkster can have a meaningful teen recreation program.

Finally, one candidate mentioned the value of having a clean city that Inksterites can be proud of. Another proposed the creation of an Inkster Beautification Committee.

Unfortunately many of the things that will make Inkster more beautiful are only partially in the hands of Inksterites. Only cooperation between Inkster and other communities and regional authorities can lead to the covering of the Perrin Drain, for instance, or the paving of Middlebelt, and Cherry Hill Roads and Michigan Ave.

But more important a beautification council, as part of the Southeast Michigan Beautification Council, could promote action by citizens' groups and individuals throughout the entire city to clean-up, paint-up and fix-up their own home, block and neighborhood.

Of course it isn't all up to the council. With the exception of the drug withdrawal clinic, the items I've mentioned don't cost much money but do call for the involvement of large numbers of citizens. In the end it's up to the Inksterites themselves to do something for Inkster.

REACH FOR THE WANT AD WAY TO SOLVE PROBLEMS

There is no better way to solve some problems than by putting an inexpensive, quick-acting Associated Newspapers Want Ad to work. Sure there are some problems that even a Want Ad can't solve, but if you have something you want to sell, or something you need but can't locate, or a room or apartment to rent, you just can't beat an inexpensive little ad to come to your rescue.

And all it takes is a phone call to put one of these hefty little problem solvers on the job. And if you have a phone listed in your name, you can say "charge it".

When you call us to place your ad, a helpful, well-trained Ad-visor will help you word your ad, and tell you just how much it will cost. Placing the ad is truly a pleasant experience, and you will be surprised how little it will cost.

County Seeks Expansion Of Home Rule Rights

Wayne County's Board of Commissioners will seek improvements in the Michigan County Home Rule Act to increase local discretion over the county governmental structure.

Changes in Act 293 were recommended by a special commissioners' committee on County reorganization which studied the Act with the assistance of the Citizens Research Council of Michigan.

"As it stand now, Act 293 is too restrictive. It would tie the hands of a county charter commission," said Board Vice Chairman James DeSana, of Wyandotte, D-District 23, chairman of the reorganization committee.

A proposal that a Wayne County Charter Commission be established under Act 293 was defeated in the November, 1968 election. County home rule would reorganize county government, but have no effect on city or township governments.

The DeSana committee recommended six changes in Act 293. Several were amended on the floor of the Board at its March 19 meeting and then all were approved for introduction in Lansing. The amendments would:

*Eliminate the requirement that under home rule all existing constitutional elected offices (sheriff, prosecuting attorney, county clerk, treasurer, register of deeds, drain commissioner and road commission) be retained as they are.

*Give the charter commission the option of proposing either an elected county executive or an appointed county executive. At present Act 293 dictates that the county executive be elected. Election of the executive would be partisan, as Act 293 now provides.

*Raise from five to 13 the minimum number of seats on the home rule county legislative body in counties with over 600,000 population. The commissioners considered a five-member legislative body unrepresentatively small. The permissible maximum number of seats would remain at 35.

*Amend the taxation section of Act 293 to make it clear that a home rule county would have the power to levy only those non-property taxes specifically authorized by the State Legislature.

*Prohibit public officials and employees from serving on the charter commission. An employee or official could run for the charter commission, but would have to resign in order to serve. There is a similar prohibition against city officials or employees serving on a city charter commission.

*Prohibit members of the charter commission from running for another elective office while the charter commission is in existence. This would assure "the most effective and objective service" by commission members.

DeSana's committee also decided to ask the State Legislature to give county boards of commissioners broad power to establish an office of county executive.

Civil Rights Leader Speaks

Civil rights leader Rev. Jesse Jackson will analyze "Racism as a Social Movement" at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Waterman Campus Center at Schoolcraft College in the last of a four part Winter Humanities Series sponsored by the school's Cultural Affairs Committee.

Students may attend free. General admission will be $2. Jackson, who styles himself a country preacher, is the national director of Chicago's Operation Breadbasket of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. He was named to the post by the late Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. in 1967.

The 28-year-old missionary Baptist minister holds a B.S. in Sociology from North Carolina A & T College and a Bachelor of Divinity from Chicago Theological Seminary.

While at A & T, he was Student Government president, worked to organize Young Democrat organizations at southern black colleges and was named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. He has served with CORE and has led a number of civil rights projects.

Dr. Ralph Atchley was chairman for this year's series, which has included Charles Rembar on obscenity and the law, Vance Packard on campus sex mores and Dr. Henry Wormser on drugs.

By Commissioners

Business Bias Blasted

Businesses bidding for contracts with Wayne County government may be rejected for discriminatory employment practices under a resolution approved by the human relations committee of the County Board of Commissioners.

The "Fair Employment Practices Resolution" is up for consideration by the Board of Commissioners at its meeting at 2 p.m. Thursday, April 2, in the City-County Building auditorium.

Relations Office to evaluate the employment practices of a business before the business is awarded a County contract. Under the present procedure,

"This resolution goes a step farther than the County's present contract compliance procedure," said Commissioner William L. Dunbar, of Detroit, D-District 10, chairman of the human relations committee.

"It empowers our Human the evaluation isn't made until after a contract is awarded. Often the contract has expired before we can take any action against a business that's in violation."

The new resolution requires businesses "to provide for equal opportunity to all persons while such businesses are performing County contracts, by adopting a positive, continuing program to promote the full realization of equal employment opportunity." It requires contractors to take "affirmative action" to promote equal employment opportunity.

In addition to Dunbar, members of the human relations committee are:

Joseph F. Young, Detroit, D-Dist. 4, vice chairman; George F. Killeen, Detroit, D-Dist. 2; Thomas P. O'Rourke, Detroit, D-Dist. 14; John H. Shepherd, Detroit, D-Dist. 12; Paul Silver, Detroit, D-Dist. 11; and Frederick Yates, Detroit, D-Dist. 9.

Petpourri

By Mike Murray

The Weimaraner Club of Greater Detroit sponsors an all-age fun match and obedience trial at the Livonia Mall on Saturday, April 18. Confirmation classes open to all puppies over two months of age will be judged by George Carleton. Barbara Zuchelski of Westland judges obedience. Entries for the match will be taken beginning at 1 p.m. with judging beginning at 2 p.m.
